Talks Go On In Pittsburgh

USW Chief Pessimistic On Quick End To Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—David J. McDonald, president of the striking United Steelworkers Union, expressed pessimism today about a quick end to the nation-wide 80-day old steel strike.
 As he arrived at a midtown hotel to resume negotiations with the steel industry representatives, McDonald was asked if he was still as hopeful as he had been Thursday.
 "Well, I'm afraid I'm not hopeful," he replied.
 R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, arrived moments after McDonald but declined to comment on McDonald's statement. Cooper also declined to comment on possibilities of an early end to the costly strike.

Today's session was the third in two days since President Eisenhower told both sides he wanted to see quick progress.
 The negotiators moved from New York to Pittsburgh one day after President Eisenhower called both sides to Washington and—in separate meetings—scolded them for letting the costly dispute drag on.
 The President returns from a vacation Oct. 8 and his remarks were widely interpreted as meaning the United Steelworkers and the industry have only until then to break the long impasse without direct government intervention.
 Except for a brief exchange of quips with newsmen before the opening session Thursday, the negotiators acted like busy men with much on their minds.

 If Oct. 8 actually is a deadline, it means only seven days remain for the union and industry to show some indication that the half million striking steelworkers soon will return to the mills.
 President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers headed the four-man union negotiating team. The industry team of four was headed by R. Conrad Cooper, a U.S. Steel Corp. executive.
 The union is seeking a wage package improvement that McDonald estimated would cost the industry about 15 cents an hour for each man. The industry wants workers to forego any improvements that would increase labor costs.

In Way Favorable To U.S.

U.S. Officials Convinced Tour Had Impact On Mr. K

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials have concluded that Nikita Khrushchev's tour of America did make an impact on his Communist indoctrinated mind — and in a way favorable to the United States.
 But they were adopting a wait-and-see attitude before deciding whether any gains were permanent or merely a temporary thawing of the cold war ice.
 Authorities who traveled with the Soviet Premier across this country, and who were in on last week's Camp David talks between Khrushchev and President Eisenhower, believe that Khrushchev: 1. Saw the strength of the American economy, the high living standards, the freedom of expression and the diversity among U.S. citizens.

2. Found that people in the United States actually live very well under capitalism despite the Marxist theory that capitalism is a system of exploiters and exploited which soon will give way to socialism.
 3. Recognized that the American people and their government are united on foreign policy.
 4. Saw that Americans generally want peace.
 5. Recognized that a smaller portion of America's total production than the Soviet Union's is devoted to arms. This flies in the face of Communist party line contentions that Americans fear disarmament because it might bring economic collapse, and that capitalists are beating the war drums in order to boost profits.

Ike And Mr. K Seen In Accord About Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev have laid the basis for an agreement on Berlin, the West Berlin newspaper Telegraph reported today from what it called a reliable source. The Telegraph has close ties with West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt.
 According to the newspaper, there are three main points of an accord reached at the Camp David talks:
 1. A corridor would be established across the 110 miles of Communist East German territory separating West Berlin from the remainder of West Germany.
 2. Western troops would remain in Berlin, not as occupants, but to guarantee and supervise the new arrangements.
 3. The United States would not object to a separate peace treaty between the Soviet Union and Communist East Germany.

 Such an agreement would probably be opposed by the West German government as giving increased prestige to the Communist German state. It would also be interpreted as making the prospect of reunifying the country even more remote.

USW Gets Loan Offer

NEW YORK (AP)—The International Ladies Garment Workers Union says it has offered a two-million-dollar, interest-free loan to the striking Steelworkers Union. The union also said Thursday it will ask its members to donate one hour's pay a month to help the strikers. It estimated donations would total a half million dollars a month.

County Home Staff May Go Out On Strike

LISBON — An attorney for 14 employees of the Columbiana County Home today advised county commissioners the workers will quit unless action is taken by Monday noon on their request for a pay hike and shorter working hours.
 Atty. Richard Kennedy of Lisbon, retained by the employees, advised the commissioners by letter today of the decision of the staff. The employees petitioned the commissioners last month for a 20 per cent wage increase, shorter daily working hours and at least one day off each week.
 The commissioners took the requests under study and asked Sp. Russell Phillips to survey the need for extra help if hours for the present staff were shortened and other matters and to make recommendations before Oct. 5.
 Atty. Kennedy, in his letter, said Phillips made his recommendations to the commissioners Thursday, "and they were accepted by the board, but at the present time, no public action has been taken according to the minutes."
 Atty. Kennedy also wrote, "The rate of pay, hours worked and time off allowed these employees at present is shocking, to say the least."

He said the workers are asking for an 8-hour work day.
To Stop In Abilene
 ABILENE, Kan. (AP) — President Eisenhower will stay overnight in Abilene Oct. 13 when he returns to his home town to help break ground for the Eisenhower Presidential Library Building. The President originally intended to fly to Abilene that morning and return to Washington that afternoon. Eisenhower now plans to fly back to Washington the morning of Oct. 14, his 69th birthday, the Eisenhower Library Commission said Thursday.

4 Convicted In Highway 'Kickbacks'

Former Senator And Beaver Trio Facing Term, $1,000 Fines

BEAVER — Defense counsel said a new trial will be sought for Samuel G. Neff and three co-defendants found guilty Thursday by a Beaver County jury on extortion and conspiracy to extort.
 The former state senator and associates face a sentence of not more than a year in jail and a fine of $1,000 for their part in the "kickback" case involving rental of highway machinery.

Neff, Robert Yoho, Leon Kalata and James Macry — all former employees of the State Highways Dept. in Beaver County — were convicted yesterday afternoon.
 Judge Morgan H. Sohn deferred sentencing after atty. Louis Glasco of Pittsburgh, Neff's counsel, said he would seek a new trial.
 The four are accused of soliciting and collecting 5 per cent kickbacks from contractors leasing equipment to the State Highway Department.

The state contends the extortion took place from 1954 to 1958 when Neff was Democratic chairman of Beaver County.
 Hearing on the motion for a new trial will defer sentencing for some time since court records will have to be transcribed.
 His attorneys had planned in case of a conviction to take the case to the State Supreme Court, friends said.

The trial lasted 10 days and the jury returned the verdict after only three hours deliberation.
 As the verdict was announced, there was stunned silence among Neff's supporters in the courtroom who had been voluble in expressing their opinion that there would be an acquittal. Throughout the trial they heckled Prosecutor Richard P. Steward, observers said.

Neither Steward nor Neff's attorneys cared to comment today. With the "kickback" case out of the way, the court will turn to trials for the remaining indictments returned by the September Grand Jury, which reported the true bills against the quartet.

Officers Plan Speed Checks

New Signs Erected To Warn Motorists

Arrival of new radar timing equipment has cleared the way for East Liverpool police to resume speed checks, particularly on main traffic arteries, Capt. Robert H. Pyle, acting chief, warned motorists today.
 The new equipment will be put to use very soon, possibly today, Capt. Pyle said. Signs required by state law are being erected on the main arteries to warn motorists that they may encounter a radar speed check somewhere along the stretch.
 The signs are being erected on W. 8th St. and on River Rd. on the approach to St. George St. Others will be put in place later on St. Clair Ave., Pennsylvania Ave. and Dresden Ave. State law requires that when police use radar to check speeding the signs must be located at least 750 feet away from the timing point, but not more than 1,500 feet.
 The city also expects to obtain signs that can be used temporarily in residential areas when speed checks are made there, Capt. Pyle said. Two men were required to operate the city's first radar machine, but the new device can be operated by a single officer, the chief said. The small radar transceiver, located outside the police car, indicates the speed of autos approaching from either direction. The speed reading is shown on a dial inside the police car.

City Motorist Hurt Badly In Skid Accident

Convertible Upsets On Route 66 After Sliding For 326 Feet

A city motorist was hospitalized today with severe injuries received when his convertible skidded and upset early this morning on Route 66 north of New Cumberland.
 Eugene Thomas, 38, of 506 College St. is in "critical" condition at the Weirton General Hospital with multiple and severe lacerations of the neck and head received in the crash at 1:30 a. m.
 Hancock County sheriff's deputies said Thomas was driving north when his 1955 Oldsmobile left the highway, skidded 326 feet and overturned.

Thomas was thrown clear and was found lying near the front of the car which was demolished, deputies said. The mishap occurred near the Nessly Chapel five miles below Newell.

Thomas underwent four hours of surgery this morning at the hospital where he was taken by an ambulance, deputies said.
 The impact of the crash was so great that the convertible top was pushed into the trunk.

2nd School Polio Shot Set Monday, Tuesday

The second in a series of three polio shots will be administered Monday and Tuesday in East Liverpool schools to approximately 700 children who received the first shot Sept. 14 or 15, Dr. E. G. Kuhlman, city health commissioner, said today.
 As in the first round, a medical team will make a tour of schools, including St. Aloysius Parochial, to administer the shots. Dr. Kuhlman will be in charge, assisted by Mrs. Jeannette Carpenter, public health nurse, Mrs. Edna Jones, school nurse, and other volunteers.
 The third shot will be administered next spring. Council provided $1,500 to purchase the vaccine, complying with a new state law for compulsory immunization. Most of the affected youngsters are in the first and second grades.

In Dock Workers Strike

'Back - To - Work' Movement Fails

NEW YORK (AP)—Port activity from Maine to Texas was paralyzed today by a strike of union dock workers. A threatened back-to-work movement by a big Brooklyn local failed to materialize.
 The rebellion apparently was squelched by top union leaders as the vast shipping tieup entered its second day on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.
 An industry official put its cost at 20 million dollars a day.
 The Brooklyn 12,000-man local of the International Longshoremen's Assn. is headed by Anthony (Tough Guy) Anastasia and often has been a thorn to top union chiefs.

It voted Thursday to call off the strike in its territory, possibly as a result of heavy damage suits threatened by employers.
 It wasn't clear who ordered them back, but a few minutes later the union president, William V. Bradley, reported from his Manhattan headquarters that the strike was 100 per cent effective from Maine to Brownsville, Tex.
 He pointedly noted that this included Brooklyn.
 Bradley already had issued a stiff notice to lower union leaders that he expected full cooperation in the strike. He notified Anastasia by telegram that all internal union problems and questions would be threshed out at a meeting of officials later today.

White Sox 6-5 Favorites To Make It Two Straight

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox, buoyed by an opening 11-0 victory, were again 6-5 favorites today to defeat the Los Angeles Dodgers in the second game of the World Series.
 Temperatures in the middle 60s and partly cloudy skies were forecast for game time at 2 p. m. EDT.
 Another standing-room crowd of some 48,000 was expected at Comiskey Park.
 The game again will be broadcast and telecast nationally by NBC.
 Manager Al Lopez had right-hander Bob Shaw, who developed into stardom with a 18-6 record this year, as the Sox pitching nominee.

Ships stood marooned in harbors, unable to take on or discharge cargoes. Railheads at harbor points were nearly silent, the result of an order by the Assn. of American Railroads halting movement of most freight to the two coasts to prevent huge pileups on unmanned piers.
 Normally bustling docks echoed only to the occasional tread of a watchman or picket, and passengers from luxury liners carried their own bags and pushed luggage carts to and from ships.
 Along the coasts about 200 freighters were tied up. In the port of New York, largest and busiest in the nation, only a handful of men were seen, in contrast to the nearly 20,000 stevedores employed daily.

The unexpected strike, which stunned union leaders, waterfront employers and mediation officials, erupted early Thursday in ports along the Gulf coast. It began only a few hours after an agreement reached here for a 15-day contract extension appeared to have averted the threat of a general walkout.

When the Southern workers struck, union officials called for a complete walkout and dashed hopes for an early settlement.

Southern longshoremen refused to extend their contracts when they failed to get from shippers in the South an agreement to make any new contract gains won by the union retroactive to Oct. 1.

Slayer Of Wife Acknowledges Manslaughter

Weirton Man Pleads Guilty To Lesser Charge In Murder

A Weirton man who had pleaded innocent in the shotgun slaying of his wife in March was one of two persons to change their pleas Thursday in Hancock County Circuit Court in New Cumberland.
 Carl Otis Cunningham, 40, admitted to voluntary manslaughter in connection with the murder of Viola Cunningham, 31, March 5 in the bedroom of their Weirton Heights home.

Cunningham was indicted in April and has been in the County Jail in New Cumberland awaiting trial. He attempted suicide after the death of his wife — a taxi driver — and spent several days in the Weirton General Hospital recuperating from self-inflicted facial wounds.

Judge J. Harold Brennan deferred sentencing of the former Weirton Steel Co. worker pending further study of the case. Cunningham faces a possible jail sentence of 1 to 5 years.

Earl Newman, 44, of New Cumberland also entered a plea of guilty to a misdemeanor charge of taking a car without the owner's consent.

Newman was sentenced to a 60-day term but was released from custody as he already had served the stipulated time while awaiting trial.

Judge Brennan gave Robert Rogawski, 19, of Weirton 3 years probation on a charge of breaking and entering.
 Meanwhile, two men sentenced

Helped Top Stars To Fame

Showman Gus Sun Taken At Age 90 By Pneumonia

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Nationally known showman Gus Sun, 90, died here Thursday night.

The man who helped many top stars in their climb to fame had developed pneumonia after breaking his hip in a fall.

Sun was best known for the Gus Sun Booking Agency, still located here and operated by his son, Gus Sun Jr.

In the days of vaudeville, performers did not call their part in show business "small time." They termed it "Sun time." Sun had 10 offices across the country at one time and supplied talent to hundreds of theaters.

Born in Toledo Oct. 7, 1868, he was christened Gustav Ferdinand Klotz. His father died when Sun was still a small boy and he had to sell newspapers and do odd jobs to help his mother.

With the help of an itinerant juggler, Sun became a juggler himself and began his climb into show business.

At 15 he went to New York and racked pool balls, juggling them for practice. Later he was with the P. T. Barnum Circus.

Following this he became general agent and co-owner of the Sun Brothers Circus. Later he ran a side show, owned Gus Sun's Minstrels and even took his wife and daughter on the road performing "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

In 1904 the showman came to Springfield and, with Fred Fowler, opened a theater in a storeroom. Patrons were offered one-reel moves with vaudeville acts.

Ten theaters were soon under his control and he branched out into the booking field. He supplied talent to many midwest theaters.

All-time greats Sun nursed along in his circuit included Bob Hope, Al Jolson, Ted Lewis, W. C. Fields, Will Rogers, Marie Dressler, Eva Tanguay, Sophie Tucker, Paul Whiteman and many others.

Showmen described Sun's minor league type of entertainment as "the harem-scarem, cat-skinning, trapeze-swinging dime vaudeville that made Gus a fortune and kept many current toppers eating."

More recently the Sun agency has operated mostly for county fairs and exhibitions.

Sun's wife Nellie died in 1953, after 56 years of marriage.

No Easy Way To Utopia

The testimony of three economists before a congressional committee that union-won wage increases have little effect on inflation points up a couple of the reasons this issue has become a major battle of our economic age.

Economics is a profession or a scholarly pursuit, not a science. Economists differ widely in their viewpoints. In addition, the terms they use are not always confined to exact, scientific definitions, so it is possible that economists who appear to be talking about the same thing are not.

Thus those who would seize upon the congressional witnesses' statements to discount the influence of wages on inflation would be well advised to take a second look.

The economic school of thought that downgrades the importance of inflationary pressures certainly is not new. It exerted considerable influence on the administrations of Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman. One of its most articulate spokesmen was the late Sumner Slichter, who said "creeping inflation" was a good thing to keep the country growing.

But such a statement tends to confuse inflation with expansion. Admittedly, it is difficult to recognize the distinction between the two, but there are some guides.

One is the purchasing power of the dollar. That part of a higher standard of living that can be bought with the same amount of dollars previously spent on the lower standard of living is sound expansion. The number of extra dollars required to buy the higher standard is inflation.

There can be little argument that the same amount of dollars do not buy today what they bought before. The current value of the dollars has been placed comparatively as low as 38 cents.

Another guide is productivity. If the increase in production keeps pace with the increase in prices and wages, the result is sound expansion. When prices and wages outstrip productivity, the result is inflation.

It has been common knowledge for some time that the American economy has come perilously close to that point generally and in some cases passed it. Secretary Mitchell's factual report on the steel industry picture in August showed that both wages and prices had risen faster than production in recent years.

This is one of the reasons automation has been viewed as the principal hope for the American economy. It is a means of restoring the balance between productivity and prices and wages, creating sound expansion rather than inflation.

The one thing that all economists agree on is the desirability of solid growth in the nation's economy. But to insure that, it is important to avoid being misled by those who say they have an easy way to do it.

Time For An Economic Change

Treasury Secretary Anderson has served noticed on the nations of Western Europe that the United States believes it is time to take a new approach to international economic development.

He told the annual meeting of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund the other day that the nations which the U.S. has helped toward postwar recovery should start sharing responsibility for economic stability.

He listed two principal ways they can do so:

1. Remove their rigid controls on imports and payment in dollars.
2. Take a hand in distributing aid to underdeveloped nations.

THE FACT that his ideas drew favorable reaction from the countries he had in mind was an indication that he stands on solid ground. It also attests to the success of America's efforts to help her friends get back on their feet after the ravages of World War II.

The U.S., at no small sacrifice, accepted the responsibilities of leadership that fall on strong and wealthy nations. It poured money and know-how into the economies of Britain, France, West Germany and Italy. It accepted, even sometimes encouraged, one-sided trade balances to give them the shot in the arm they needed to restore health to sick economies.

The treatment was successful. All of these nations now are enjoying almost unprecedented prosperity and the greater degrees of political security that goes with prosperity.

But the doctor cannot keep giving of himself indefinitely without running the risk of getting sick himself. And that in effect was what Mr. Anderson said might happen unless the pace is eased for the U.S.

HE POINTED out to the gathered financial leaders that the U.S. has a $4,500,000,000 deficit in its balance of payments because its export surplus of three billion dollars has been more than offset by military expenditures, investments and aid abroad.

One way to solve the problem would be for the U.S. to reduce these outflows sharply to make up the difference. And Mr. Anderson left no doubt that he would advocate such action if necessary.

But he said he preferred to see the same end accomplished through a sharing by the Allies this nation has helped so generously. That is the way good neighbors work.

Castro's 'Revolutionary' Ideas

Cuban Premier Fidel Castro continues to act and talk like a man who plans to bring something less than democracy to the nation he once promised to retrieve from the clutches of dictatorship.

His latest public outbursts are highly significant on that score. In the face of foreign criticism of some of his fiscal policies, he defiantly announced that Cuba can go it alone. In the face of press criticism at home, he charged that anyone who opposes his policies is serving the interests of the enemies of the revolution.

These are familiar phrases. History attests to the fact that there has scarcely ever been a dictator who did not start out by freeing them. The strategy is to appeal to mass emotions by appearing defiant, confident and always right. It is a highly successful one, which is the reason it is used so often.

The next step usually is to silence gradually the press that does not parrot the regime's line. That serves to keep dissident views both without and within the country from reaching the people.

This has not happened in Havana yet, but there are signs it may be in the offing. Cuba's oldest and largest newspaper, which was the subject of Mr. Castro's recent attack because it criticized some aspects of the tax program, has charged that press freedom still exists but "it is a very special freedom." It lambasted officials who say one thing in public and another in private.

And the premier has rejected any investigation by the Inter-American Press Assn. into freedom of the press in Cuba.

It may well be that the policies Premier Castro has adopted are proper ones for the situation his country faces. But in democracy, the means to an end are as important as the end itself.

Perhaps Fidel Castro is sincere when he says that his stern approach is simply an expedient necessary until Cuba is stable enough to handle real freedom.

But that is an old argument of developing dictators, too.

Market St. Grade

This week's fire at nearby Industry, which resulted when a big tanker truck loaded with gasoline wrecked and burned, re-emphasized the need of doing everything possible to curb the speed of trucks going through the Diamond and down Market St.

Fuel-laden trucks present the greatest hazard, but all types of the big carriers are cause for concern. Tragedy very easily could occur on the Market St. grade should a truck get out of control.

When the speed is too great, when traffic signals are "crashed" or when any other form of violation occurs, the police — if present at the time — should haul the offender into court. Such arrests should help control the situation. By word of mouth, truckers would learn that the law was to be observed and in most cases could be expected to act accordingly.

The drivers' own safety is at stake as well as the safety of others.

The administration also should make certain that the Fire Department at all times has the proper equipment and material to combat fuel-fed fires should they occur. And the department, in turn, should make sure that the equipment is ever ready for use.

Constant alertness is in order to guard against disaster on Market St.

By H. I. Phillips

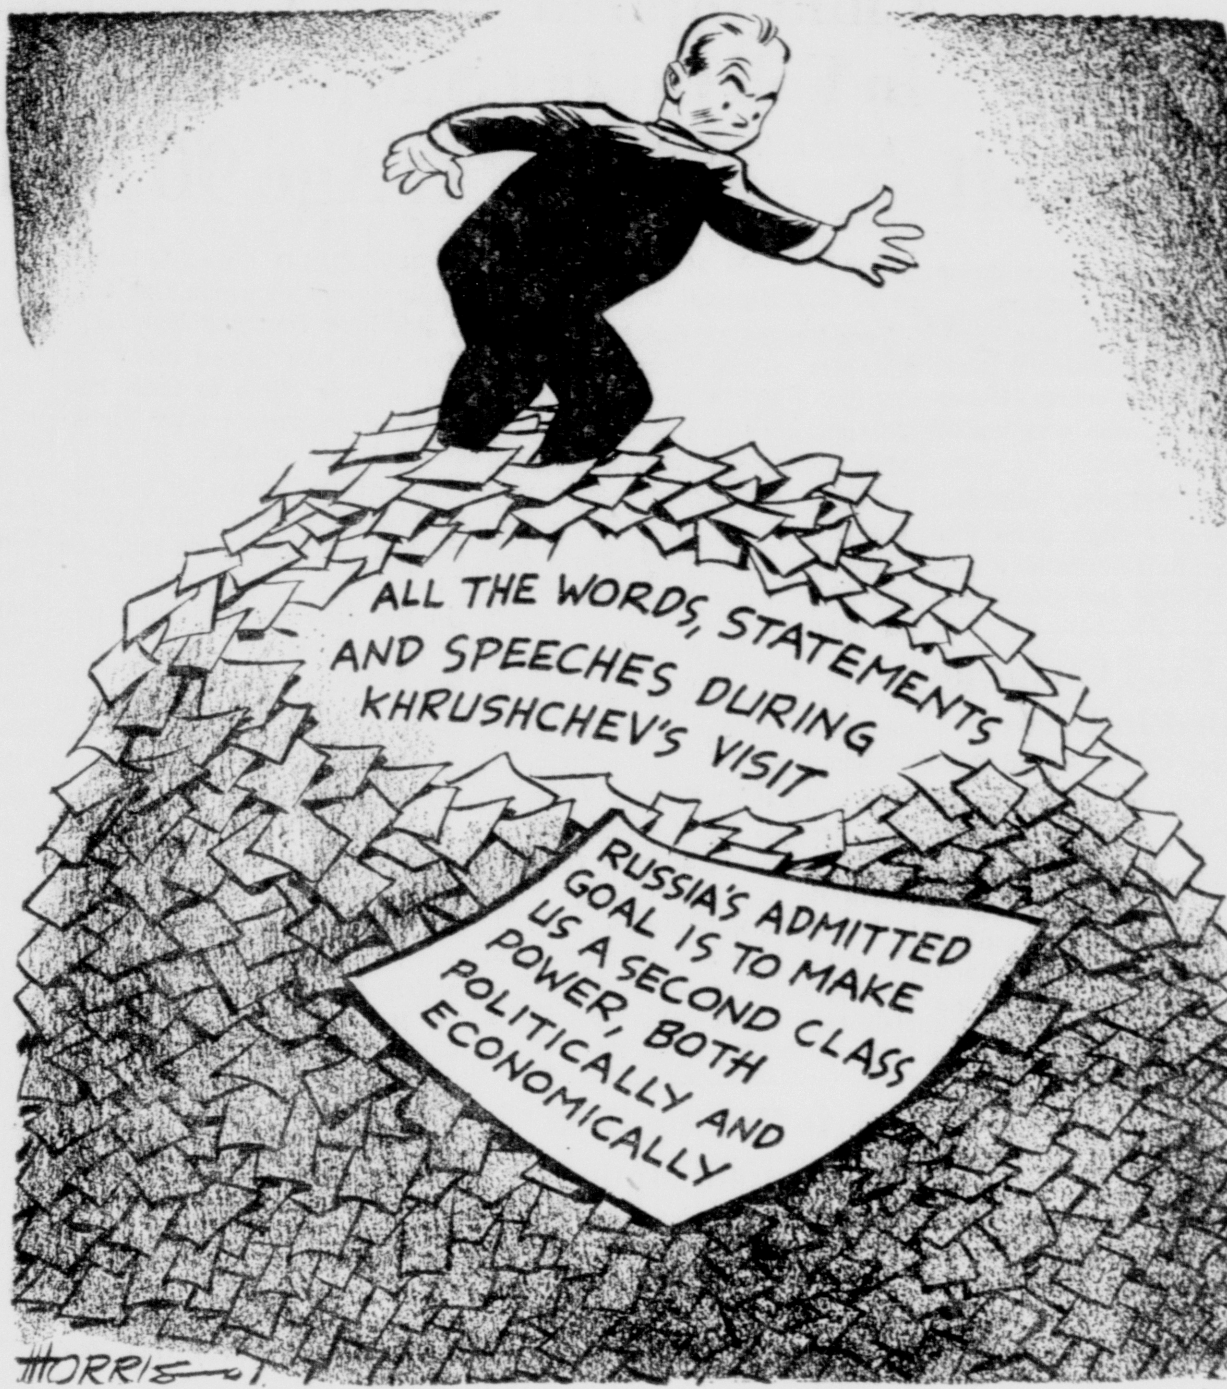

1. Success is dependent on the driver and street conditions. Shaving while bouncing over open manholes can ruin your face and the razor.

2. Shaving while going around a corner fast can destabilize things so much that a passenger may discover he is shaving the cab's upholstery instead of his face. In one instance in heavy traffic the cab was jammed in motion between a bus and an oil truck for 10 minutes and our man found he had shaved two bus passengers and the truck driver.

3. The only advantage of an electric razor in taxi is that you get a shave in an ever-changing scene. (Broadway trip is best if you have a tough beard, Madison Avenue if you have a light beard and Fifth Avenue if all you desire is to shave among the elite.)

A WORKER gave Khrushchev a cigar and Khrushchev gave him a wrist watch. The exchange was so mutually surprising that the worker tried to smoke the watch, while the Premier tried to wind the cigar.

One Stands Out

Work Rules Stymie Steel Settlement

By Victor Riesel

Seven troubled presidential advisers, musing over their breakfast coffee in the White House last Monday morning, were haunted by a spectre — "instant steel."

One of the group, soon to troop upstairs to a President swathed in paper handkerchiefs, said to himself that the basic trouble in basic steel is that you can now brew the metal in about the time it took to brew the coffee in the White House basement eatery.

This was not what they discussed with the President when, at about nine o'clock, after 1½ hours of welding a formula for Mr. Eisenhower's action, they walked upstairs. They had 15 to 20 minutes with the President.

Among the seven were Joe Finnegan, amiable, effective mediator chief and trouble shooter; Labor Secretary Mitchell, Treasury Secretary Anderson; Attorney General Rogers; Interior Secretary Mueller, and some technicians.

They found the President weak of voice but strongly determined to end the strike. He was angry over the "dent in the pocketbooks" of some 660,000 men thrown out of work by this industrial war.

THE PRESIDENT took up most of the time saying it was a terrible thing for women and kids going to school to be short on money for almost 80 days.

He said he knew what it was like to be without a buck and how it would affect his own grandchildren if they were steel workers' youngsters. That was about 9:20 a.m.

Five hours later, Mr. Eisenhower personally talked to strike leader Dave McDonald, who was in a New York Hotel, and to U.S. Steel chief Roger Blough, who was in his executive suite at 71 Broadway in New York City.

They were short, businesslike conversations. The President was mindful of what he had told his advisers that morning — "They'll both have to live... we've got to keep the country strong in this time of real world tension." This was merely hours after Chairman Khrushchev left the United States.

These men can settle many issues — but it will take years before they solve the problem of "instant steel" regardless of what was said in the White House. "Instant steel" is what the professionals say the Kaiser Co. mills are brewing at Fontana, Cal.

THERE, IN 25 MINUTES, they can whip up sufficient heat in an open hearth furnace to make steel. It used to take 29 days.

One new furnace in a Midwest U.S. Steel plant now rolls out 100 tons of steel in an hour. It used to take one working day. Where a man once kept an eye on rolling steel, television cameras do the work.

To the steel industry this means the efficiency and modernization needed to employ hundreds of thousands of men, pay dividends and stay ahead of Japanese, British and German steel salesmen.

To the union this means the disappearance of jobs and fewer and fewer men employed. And the steelworker knows what happens.

He has seen his coal digging brothers leave the mines in such numbers that American black fuel now is mined by 180,000 instead of 600,000 miners.

Furthermore, the industry says that to stay alive it has to modernize its work force as well as its machinery. Both sides know this means layoffs. There you have the bind.

THE COMPANY wants paragraph 2-B rewritten in major contracts. The steel firms want the famed lines to state that the union will not have the power to do more than complain when work rules are changed and men laid off "so steel can be made more efficiently."

The industry is willing to go to arbitration on each dispute. The union, however, wants the old clause to remain. It now states that you cannot change existing practices.

On the afternoon of Friday, Sept. 25, strike leader McDonald was asked for the last time if he would agree to rewriting the big paragraph 2-B. He retorted he would not change one comma.

In a desperate effort to prevent collapse of negotiations, such as they are, the industry's Conrad Cooper was asked if he would make a money offer. He said he would not put one cent on the table until they had some agreement on work rule changes.

Furthermore, even if they got some changes, the industry wants to sign local contracts with local steel unions. Now all contracts are signed with the international steel headquarters in Pittsburgh.

If a local union rebels against any part of the master agreement, the steel company involved can only complain to Dave McDonald. From now on the industry wants to be able to sue local unions for damages after wildcat strikes and slowdowns.

Obviously, there can be no instant solution for "instant steel."

Johnson Able Leader

By Raymond Moley

If, as in the years in the early 1800's, "King Caucus" reigned in Washington, Lyndon Baines Johnson, senior senator from Texas and majority leader, would be so far ahead for the 1960 Democratic nomination that Senators Kennedy, Humphrey and Symington would be well advised to save their money and breath.

For the Texan has the great advantage as a presidential hopeful of the favor of those who know him best, the Democratic members of Congress.

This is no small tribute to his incredible energy, his skill as a parliamentarian, his sense of justice and balance and his capacity to reconcile almost hopelessly divergent points of view in a party which is held together only by a long-established trade name.

Political opponents who have had high place in the opposition party, such as former Sen. Knowland and Vice President Nixon, respect and personally find a measure of agreement with Johnson on methods.

SUCH FAVORABLE attributes and advantages led many observers to believe in 1953 that Johnson was a natural choice for the Democrats in 1956. A year before the convention the unbelievable drive and labors of the senator laid him low with a serious heart attack. Nothing remained but the shoptown veteran of the 1932 battle, Adlai Stevenson.

After a convalescence Johnson resumed his work but this was not sufficiently convincing to attract the delegates who had already seen physical liabilities in President Eisenhower as ready made for opposition argument for the election of a healthy Democrat.

Johnson can hardly be said to have emerged from the first session of this Congress as a Wellington or a Frederick the Great. But without him, the battle of the budget would have ended in a rout.

If comparisons are needed to prove this, note the utter impotence of Speaker Rayburn in the House of Representatives during the last months of the session. He, too, had a big numerical majority.

There is a great deal of unhappiness among Democratic professionals over the country about the crop of available for 1960.

With the old boast that "Nixon would be easiest to beat" revealed as a form of dancing in a bomb shelter and Nixon rising rapidly in public esteem, those professionals are finding many reasons why Kennedy, Humphrey, and Symington are not first-rate prospects.

One of those professionals said recently that the Democratic messiah might well be a "dark, dark horse."

Others are taking a second look at a horse of another color but pretty well worn, Adlai Stevenson. And a good many are calculating that, despite actuarial risks, Johnson might be the best sort of compromise.

Lyndon Johnson in his early public life in Texas and later in the House of Representatives could only be classed as a garden variety of New Dealer. He was regular and he voted for every radical measure in those years except when the interests of his conservative state were concerned.

MANY TEXANS have recently discerned what they believe to be a conservative metamorphosis—a "new Lyndon," as they say.

He is a man of property—plenty of it. (It is interesting to note that four of the five presidential possibilities of the "poor man's party," Kennedy, Symington, Stevenson, and Johnson, are far from poor themselves.)

Johnson pays plenty of attention to the business leaders of his state, is indefatigable in caring for their chores and answers their letters.

But in the AFL-CIO COPE scorebook he voted "right" in every thing except civil rights and specific issues of interest to his state.

Despite his drive and energy—no man in Congress has ever worked so hard and with no apparent impairment of his health, the issue of health will be important in 1960. For the memory of the Eisenhower vigil is still vivid.

Collective Bargaining

By David Lawrence

Public Should Know Issues In Steel Talks

President Eisenhower says that he is "getting sick and tired of the apparent impasse" in the settlement of the steel strike, and that "so are the American people."

While quick to add that he is "not going to try to assess any blame," the President goes on to say that free collective bargaining has "apparently broken down." This is rather a sensational appraisal and the public is entitled to know the facts on which it is based.

Federal law makes collective bargaining compulsory and the National Labor Relations Board has in its files a pile of cases that say both sides must "bargain in good faith."

Why have collective bargaining negotiations "broken down"? What has actually happened?

Of course, when Khrushchev doesn't agree with Eisenhower, there is no way of making either one give in. Likewise, the two sides in the steel controversy can refuse to agree and there's no way of making them do so unless the government in Washington becomes a sort of dictatorship.

Then the word "free" would have to be omitted hereafter — and also the phrase "collective bargaining."

Former President Truman — who is given to making impromptu comments every now and then to bolster his own impression that he was just about the best President America has ever had — remarked the other day about steel strikes during his administration:

"I didn't sit around and wait for the country to go to pot. I settled them."

But how did he do it? A little thing like the Constitution of the United States didn't bother him. He had no authority under any law to seize the steel industry in the spring of 1952 — but he did.

THE SUPREME COURT of the United States promptly ruled that his action was unconstitutional. But the damage had already been done.

While the steel plants were in government hands, the industry was ordered to pay a certain level of wages which it had refused to grant previously during collective bargaining. There was no turning back on that score.

As for the current steel controversy, maybe while the Khrushchev trip was in the offing, it wasn't a very good idea for Congress to be enacting a law authorizing government seizure of an industry because this might tend to prove that our free American system isn't effective after all and that, when an organized economic group demands its way, it gets what it wants.

It does so by inflicting considerable damage on the public. In other words, if the American people are injured enough, the government intervenes and immediately engineers the surrender by one side to the other — and thereby by the unions usually win because they have the potential votes at the polls.

Also, plenty of people outside the unions who are affected don't care who is appeased as long as a strike is ended.

The present steel strike happens to be a dispute that affects not only the steel industry but the whole economic future of the nation.

It is related to the purchasing power of the dollar and whether millions of Americans on fixed incomes shall be robbed. The dollar has already declined by 33 cents since the end of World War II and much of the decline is due to the tendency of every industry, whether or not under government compulsion, to seek the easiest way out in labor-management disputes, which means granting the wage increases and then boosting prices.

NOT LONG AGO the public was demanding the "facts" in the steel dispute. The kind of facts disclosed were technical and related only in a general way to what each side was asking.

The American people have never been told what is really involved. The biggest issue in the steel controversy is whether union members shall be paid for work not done.

The steel companies owe it to the American people to tell in detail all the facts — just what they desire by way of changes in "working rules" and what they then would be able to do about wage increases based on economies that can be achieved.

The only thing that has "broken down" is the custom whereby industry every year gives in to the unions and what has been interrupted is the process of disclosing publicly what the issues really are.

The President met with the leaders of both sides at the White House and urged them to start talking again.

But talk in secrecy will not accomplish much — at least, not until the American people know why, despite virtually the highest wages in all industry, the Steelworkers are demanding even more. Is there no limit to or restraint upon "organized greed," even in the public interest?

Myth And Irony

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON
The United States and Red China are caught in a myth wrapped in irony within a dilemma.

The myth: This country insists Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists on Formosa are the legitimate government of all China and not the Red Chinese who have now controlled the entire mainland for 10 years.

The irony: This country has pressured Chiang into agreeing he will not try to retake the mainland by force. Without force it seems certain he can never go back to the mainland or conquer its Red masters.

The dilemma: How can this country agree with world communism on world problems—like disarmament—unless Red China, which the United States refuses to recognize, is included?

True, through better relations with the Soviet Union, the United States could settle problems involving only the U.S.S.R. and the West. For instance, Berlin, which has nothing to do with China.

But it seems impossible to think of settlements on world problems without agreement with the Red Chinese. Agreement would almost of necessity require closer relations.

Therefore, if relations with the Soviet Union improve, it seems like relations with Red China will, too, although this will go against the grain of many in this country who are strong for Chiang and violent against the Red Chinese.

A lot of things happened in 1949. This country, which had been giving Chiang billions of dollars in aid while his government was on the mainland, suddenly washed its hands of him. His government was corrupt and his situation hopeless.

That same year the Communists took over the mainland. He fled to Formosa, an island 100 miles away, and set up shop there with the remnants of his government. Even in early 1950 President Truman refused to intervene between him and the Reds who threatened to take Formosa. Truman refused to protect him.

This changed instantly when the Korean War began. Truman ordered protection for Formosa. This has been American policy ever since. The red Chinese by their subsequent tactics froze this American policy solid.

They sent "volunteers" into Korea; they were branded aggressors by the United Nations; they still hold American prisoners; they have repeatedly shelled Formosa; they continually threaten to retake it.

Although 32 nations have recognized the Red regime, this country not only refuses to do so but has been able to keep the Reds out of the United Nations.

Only a few weeks ago in the U.N. this country blasted Red China in these words: "In nine years it has promoted six foreign or civil wars—Korea, Tibet, Indochina, the Philippines, Malayan, and Laos. It has fought the United Nations."

Last year Secretary of State John Foster Dulles visited Chiang on Formosa and the two men issued a joint statement in which Chiang agreed he would not try to use force to retake the mainland and throw out the Reds.

It was clear why The United States wouldn't help him make the try. Without such help he could do nothing. Thus, in effect, he agreed to die of old age on Formosa, while claiming to be the rightful master of the mainland.

Thus the United States and Red China are in an almost absurd historical position.

Odd Facts

The number of free college educations is increasing in the U. S. Today, there are business firms, endowments, co-operatives, labor unions, and other organizations which are putting out an estimated million dollars annually in free college aid to more than 75,000 students. Some of these scholarships even cover housing, allotments, food, and clothing, as well as tuition.

Estimates show that the number of small birds in the United States is increasing, while the number of large birds is decreasing. Large birds have been hunted more than small ones, and they suffer more when woods and forests are cleared.

Hike In Individual Phone Lines Predicted

CLEVELAND (AP)—Within 10 years eight out of 10 residence telephone customers will have individual lines compared with the present 50-50 apportionment between individual and party lines.

That was the prediction of Frederick R. Kappel, president of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., in a talk Thursday night at the 34th general assembly of the Telephone Pioneers of America.

Looking into the long range future, Kappel predicted combined voice and picture transmission over the telephone network, telephone instruments in homes and offices completely concealed and direct dialing to foreign countries.

Merchants Move 'Out Of Line' On Time At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Over half the city merchants, most industries and the Post Office were back on Daylight Saving Time today, although the official school and municipal clocks were on Eastern Standard Time.

Because of delivery schedules and contacts with areas on "fast" time, some 25 businesses, including the First National Bank, the Union Commercial & Savings Bank and the City Loan office, moved their clocks ahead an hour.

Council met last week in special session to place the city on Standard Time Sunday, in order to conform to school time.

However, most industries decided to stay on DST because of delivery schedules and workers residing in "fast time" areas and merchants began to follow suit this week.

Harry Andrus, postmaster, said the Post Office was returning to DST because of regulations permitting the office to follow the time schedule of the majority of businesses.

The city Barbers Union announced barbers would return to DST Saturday. The Savings & Loan Association and a number of other merchants remained on EST, but some indicated they may switch.

Cleveland Woman Hurt In Auto Ditching

A Cleveland woman was treated at City Hospital early today for injuries suffered when the car in which she was a passenger swerved into a ditch.

Mrs. Percelli Anderson, 24, was in a car operated by her husband, William Anderson, who apparently lost control. The auto went into a ditch, the hospital report indicated.

Mrs. Anderson, treated at 1:10 a. m., suffered brush burns of the left leg, bruises of the left arm and abrasions of the lip. No district police agency had any report of the mishap.

Mr. K And Mao Talk Business After Parade

TOKYO (AP)—To the strains of "How Good the People's Communes Are," 1 1/2 million Chinese danced and sang all night in Peiping's Square of Heavenly Peace to celebrate China's first 10 years of Red rule.

The noisy spectacle, which the Communist New China News Agency said was repeated throughout the China mainland, was witnessed by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, Red Chinese Chairman Mao Tse-tung and other top Communists from around the world.

Today Khrushchev and Mao got down to business again in their third conference since the Russian leader arrived Wednesday. A Peiping broadcast announcing this parley gave no indication of the topics.

The fun-making came after a huge military demonstration of artillery pieces, tanks, jet bombers and fighters and a parade of 700,000 civilian marchers in the Chinese capital.

No More Gasoline Taxes For State, Underwood Says

CHARLESTON (AP)—Harried West Virginia motorists probably won't have to worry about additional state taxes on gasoline.

At least that's the thinking of Gov. Underwood, who took note of the recent one-cent-a-gallon increase imposed by the federal government.

The governor, in a speech before the West Virginia Tax Institute yesterday, had this to say: "Gasoline has been an excellent source of income for the several states. But the four cents federal tax added to the seven cents of West Virginia tax per gallon virtually eliminates further use of the area by the state."

The governor also took the occasion to score what he called West Virginia's "patchwork" taxation.

Whenever the Legislature has needed more money, he said it has either increased the rates of existing taxes or created a new tax with revenue sometimes only sufficient to balance the budget.

The governor gave, as one example, the soft drinks tax which was levied to finance West Virginia University's Medical School. The governor, conceding the tax was levied for a worthwhile purpose, called it a perfect example of creating an isolated tax for one individual purpose without consideration of, or integration with, the entire tax structure.

Alcoholics Growing

NEW YORK (AP)—The number of alcoholics in this country is growing at the rate of 200,000 a year, Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, told a banquet audience Thursday night. Five million persons in the nation are alcoholics, he said, urging that the problem be attacked by means of education and scientific research.

No Sweeping Conclusions

Mr. K's Expansion Boast Gets Backing In Reports

By EDMOND LE BRETON
WASHINGTON (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev's boast that the Soviet economy is expanding more rapidly than that of the United States finds some support among specialists reporting to Congress.

But the 16 technical papers made public Thursday by the Joint Economic Committee do not reach the sweeping conclusions the Soviet Premier voiced during his visit: that communism will bury capitalism economically, or that its pattern of society will take over, just as capitalism supplanted feudalism.

The committee had asked for the analyses as part of a comparative study it is making of the Soviet and U.S. economies.

In terms merely of growth in industrial output—not taking into account the levels from which they start nor the uses they find for their products—the Soviets show up well in the economic analyses. But by the same yardsticks their industrial growth rate exceeded that of the United States for a time even under the czars.

In one paper prepared for the committee, G. Warren Nutter of the University of Virginia concluded that in the next five years "it seems reasonably certain that industrial growth will proceed more rapidly in the Soviet Union than in the United States." But he found "no definitive evidence that the Soviet economic system has been able to generate more rapid industrial growth over the long run."

Hans Heymann Jr., of the Rand Corp., expressed doubt Khrushchev seriously expects to match the United States in per capita production by 1970. But Heymann said the danger is not the timing of such a triumph, but a trend in the Soviet favor—"The steady and progressive diminution of the U.S. lead," he said, "would give an immense boost to Soviet prestige."

for aiding and abetting in a jailbreak last month began serving 15-year terms in the Moundsville State Penitentiary today.

Ronald O. Howell, 20, of East Liverpool and Duane Mercer, 23, of New Cumberland conspired in the jailbreak last month in which two prisoners escaped.

A third prisoner charged with aiding in the escape is awaiting arraignment Tuesday and is expected to plead guilty. He is Donald A. Beck, 19, of Chester who earlier pleaded innocent to conspiring in the jailbreak.

Judge Brennan recommended that Howell serve the maximum term.

The two jail escapees, who spent 39 hours of freedom before being captured in Moundsville — Walter C. Steiner, 19, and Robert Williams, 29, both of Weirton — are expected to be arraigned next week.

Tattoo Parlors Told To Clean Up Or Close

NEW YORK (AP)—Health authorities are giving the needle to the city's six tattoo parlors. They must clean up or close up.

Effective today, a new health code requires that tattoo artists must sterilize both the dyes and equipment they use and must operate in a clean and sanitary manner. The old code lacked provisions covering tattooing.

Health officials were spurred into action by the recent death from hepatitis of a teen-ager tattooed on Coney Island.

ICC Denies Petition In Rail Linking

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Opposition to the proposed linking of the Erie and the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroads has deepened with refusal of a petition for details on freight business 14 other roads may lose.

The Interstate Commerce Commission's Hyman J. Blond Thursday denied the petition during the third of hearings here.

Attorneys for the opposing roads indicated a full-scale clash may be in the offing when the hearing resumes Monday in Washington. They said they would seek to have the ICC overrule blond.

The issue arose when a study of the proposed merger showed potential revenue losses to other roads might reach 7 million dollars. The Nickel Plate Road would stand to lose more than half of this, the study purported.

Under cross-examination by Nickel Plate counsel Thomas O. Broker of Cleveland, railroad consultant William Wier said that after five years the merger road's new long-haul freight traffic could mean a loss of 19,650 cars per year, worth $3,528,000 to the Nickel Plate.

These figures were based on 1956 traffic, Wier said, and added that under existing rates the loss would be slightly less.

No Friend, No Wreck And No TV Set Either

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The morning after he made the final payment on his television set, Elmer Boggs sat watching it at home. The phone rang.

A man told him that a friend had been in an accident some distance away. Boggs jumped in his car and sped to the scene. No friend, no accident.

No TV set, either, he found when he got back. Neighbors saw three men drive up to the rear of Boggs' house while he was gone and load the TV and his new hi-fi set into their car.

Camp Gives Up Berries To Erase Mosquitoes

WATERTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—Authorities at Camp Drum, a National Guard training area, have made a hard choice: Loss of blueberries to get rid of mosquitoes. The "mosquitoes or blueberries" decision was prompted by a plan to spray the camp area with an insecticide which makes the acres of wild blueberries unfit for human consumption.

Ike's Mission Today: Soak Up Sunshine

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—President Eisenhower's main mission for today is this: soak up more sunshine in big doses.

The President, trying to get rid of a persistent cold, arranged to golf again at the challenging El Dorado Country Club course at the edge of the picturesque Santa Rosa Mountains.

And again Eisenhower plans a match with his host at this desert resort, George E. Allen; William E. Robinson of New York, board chairman of Coca Cola; and Freeman Gosden, Amos of the Amos and Andy radio team.

The President arrived from Washington late Wednesday for an eight-day stay as the guest of Allen at his home at nearby La Quinta, Calif.

Eisenhower got in 18 holes of golf Thursday morning and then did some sunbathing during the afternoon at Allen's estate.

The cold Eisenhower has been fighting since Labor Day still is with him. But the White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, told newsmen he is confident a few more days of warm sun in this dry climate will do the President much good.

Reporters and photographers were permitted to watch Eisenhower drive off the first tee and accept a new electric golf cart, the gift of the several golf clubs of the area. Although sniffling some, he was in a cheerful mood at the start of the match. Newsmen who got a glimpse of him when the round ended thought he looked a bit tired.

Judge Overrules Bus Driver's Plea For 'Expediency'

A bus driver did his best to plead guilty in Municipal Court today on a charge of crashing a traffic light, but Judge George L. Brokaw refused to accept an admission of guilt "made only as an expedient to avoid returning to court."

Willis Drummond of R. D. 2 first pleaded innocent when arraigned on a charge he crashed a traffic light at Washington and E. 5th Sts. Thursday night at 8:45. But he attempted to switch his plea to guilty when he learned he would have to return to court Saturday morning for trial.

"It wouldn't be good business for me to accept a guilty plea as an expedient to avoid returning to court," the judge said. Drummond indicated he wanted to settle the case to avoid missing a second day's work.

"We'll set the case for Saturday morning and if you can't be here we will continue it to a time when you can be present," the judge said. Drummond posted an $11 bond.

Police also filed a report on a mishap at 11 a. m. yesterday in Diamond Alley 100 feet east of Crook Alley in which the dump body fell off a truck, scattering a load of coal that blocked traffic.

Kenneth M. Nichols, 45, of Hill Blvd., the truck driver, said the bed broke free as he prepared to dump the load of coal, police said. There was damage to a sheet of metal and two boards on the adjoining building occupied by the F. W. Woolworth Co. 5-and-10-cent store, police said.

$2 Million Gas Tank Fire Burns Down To Flicker

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—A two-million-gallon gasoline tank fire burned down to a flicker today. Firemen appeared optimistic that their long battle would be won.

Much of the danger of a sympathetic explosion and fire in nearby storage tanks has been averted.

Flames, once shooting 200 feet into the sky, now are 4 or 5 feet high.

The tank exploded before dawn Thursday, destroying three houses and injuring nine persons. Only one man was hospitalized, however.

The cause of the blast, which occurred not quite two days after Hurricane Gracie hurled itself upon Charleston, has not been determined.

The tank was one of a cluster of four in the 32-tank Esso Standard Oil Co. refinery on the northern outskirts of the city.

House Burns At West Point

WEST POINT — A fire at the home of James L. Todd of Lisbon R. D. 1 Thursday caused an estimated $200 damages to an upstairs bedroom, according to Fire Chief John Tusek.

Firemen were called about 11 a. m. and found one room afire in the two-story brick, Chief Tusek said. A daughter had been ironing before going to school and it is assumed she forgot to turn it off. It burned the ironing board, covers and caught the wall on fire.

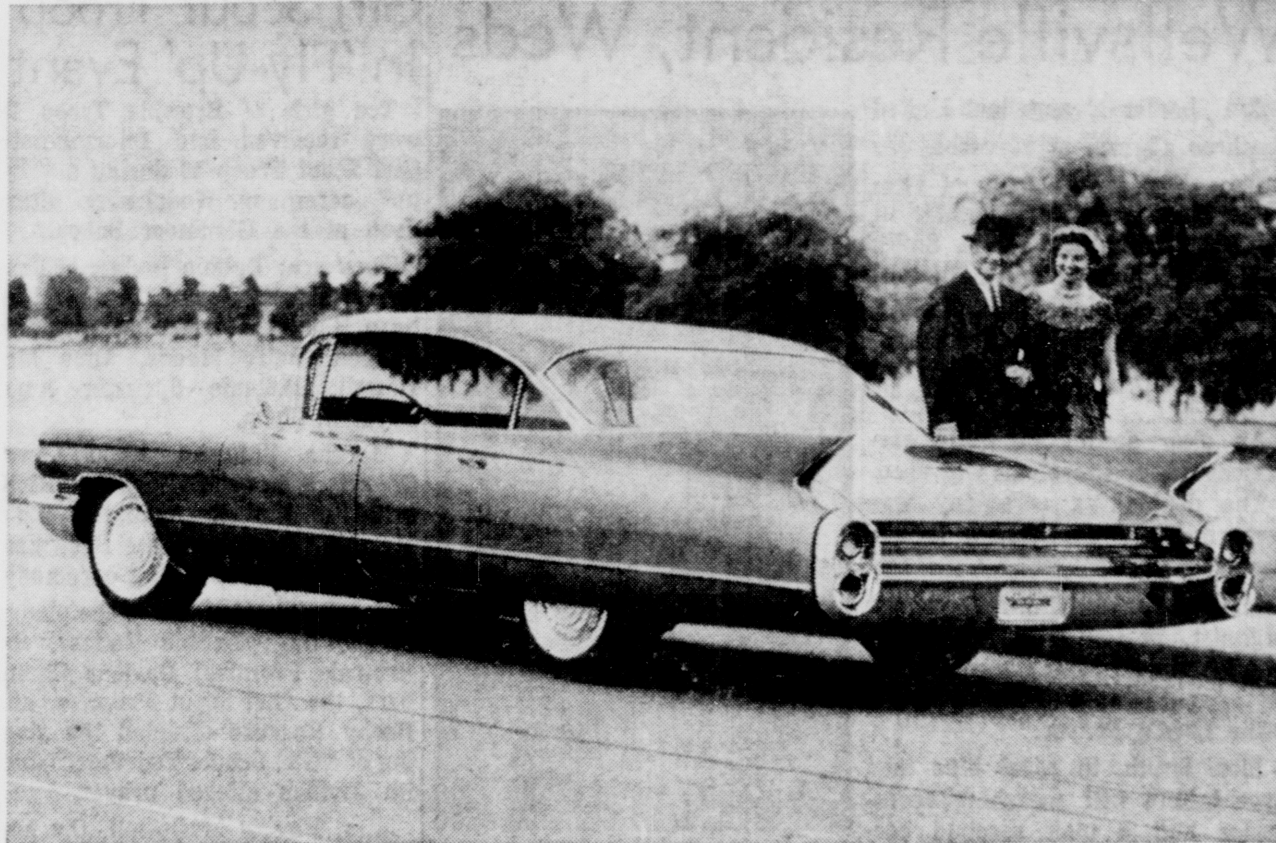

The volunteer firemen answered the alarm but were hampered by motorists following the truck. One got stuck in a lane to the home and would have caused trouble if firemen had tried to go for more water. Chief Tusek appealed for motorists to refrain from following the truck on runs.

The home is owned by Atty. Edgar C. Darcey of Guilford Lake and it is not insured, firemen said.

New Cadillacs Go On Display Here

The 1960 Cadillac went on display today at Mike Turk, Inc., 415 E. 6th St.

The model above is the six-window sedan of the Series Sixty-Two.

The new cars are described by James M. Roche, Cadillac general manager and vice president of General Motors, "as ushering in a new era of motoring elegance."

Roche said, "The newness of the 1960 Cadillac is emphasized by its handsome lines and elegant simplicity of design. Creating this new look are the traditional but more restrained tail fins which reflect the influence of the Eldorado Brougham; the new front end with a wider and lower appearance which results from the new grille, new bumper and new parking and driving lights, and the new rear bumper with the most distinctive lighting arrangement ever offered by Cadillac."

"Coupled with these styling advances are important developments in the mechanical operation, including further progress in achievement of smoothness and quietness of performance and significant developments in the braking system."

Referring to the Cadillac practice of creating a car in which even the most minute detail contributes to the excellence of the product, Roche said, "Never before has even a Cadillac catered so completely to the desires of discriminating motorists. This is evident in its new interior where comfort and convenience are the keynote for both front and rear seat passengers."

"It is evident also," he said, "in the remarkably new driving ease afforded by Cadillac's outstanding power steering, Hydramatic transmission and highlighted by the advanced new braking system."

It is emphasized by the incredibly smooth performance and responsiveness of the famous Cadillac engine. And particularly, the driver and passengers of the 1960 Cadillac will be amazed by the even smoother ride achieved in an atmosphere of hushed quiet.

The exterior appearance reveals graceful simplicity from the completely new front grille to the distinctive rear quarter panel — the silhouette is unmistakably an advanced design and reflects the influence of the Eldorado Brougham.

Cadillac is offering 13 models in three standard and one custom series. All models are basically unchanged in dimensions over last year's models.

The distinctive 1960 Eldorado Brougham achieves new levels of luxuriousness for a limited production motorcar, Roche said.

The front end of the Brougham is all new with new bumper and grille. The grille features the jewel-like ornaments pioneered by Cadillac. Of a smaller design they sparkle from a field of horizontal and vertical bars.

The sculptured design of the side panels is complemented by the flaring out of the lower door panels and lower rear quarter.

Firemen Air Radio Change

Plans to change their radio hookup to a different band were discussed by the Hancock County United Fire-Fighters' Association Thursday night at Newell. Firemen now are on the same frequency used in the police radio systems.

Recommendations and procedure and cost of necessary equipment were outlined by a representative of the General Electric Co., of Pittsburgh, who told firemen the separate radio circuit may cost about $12,000.

Firemen are considering the new circuit to link the county's nine fire departments due to a recent order of the Federal Communications Commission that fire departments must operate their radios on an entirely separate wave length from that of police authorities within the next two years.

Carl Durham, first vice president, presided for business during which Chief Randall Roach of Lawrenceville was elected second vice president. Roach will finish the term of John Grimes of Lawrenceville, who has resigned.

Durham, chief of Newell firemen, reported on a fire school held recently in New Cumberland. Plans are in progress for another school this fall with only inside classes scheduled.

Doughnuts and coffee were served by Newell firemen. The next meeting will be announced later. Elmer Bailey, president, attended but did not take the chair pending action of New Cumberland Town Council Tuesday night on his resignation as fire chief.

Filing Of Income Tax Made Easier With New Form

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam has taken the wraps off a new income tax form.

It has fewer questions, fewer instructions and fewer blanks to fill than the standard form it will replace for many taxpayers.

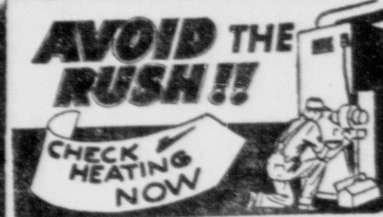

But it will be just as painful as ever when it comes to that final blank on the total tax due. The tax rate is unchanged.

The short-cut form, called 1040W, will be mailed to about 17 million Americans between Christmas and New Year's. You can use it if your income consists of wages and salary—regardless of the amount—plus not more than $200 of dividends and interest.

The 1040W is the first all-new tax form in five years. Plans for it were announced several weeks ago, but its format was kept secret until Thursday. No significant changes were made in other tax forms.

Painter Confesses Digging Girl's Body From Her Grave

SIoux FALLS, S.D. (AP) — A house painter's confession to his father led diggers to an old basement excavation and the body of young Jean Pensly, dragged from her grave three weeks ago.

Searchers Thursday night found the body of the 11-year-old Holland, Minn., leukemia victim a foot underground. She was clad in the clothing in which she was buried save for white stockings that were missing.

Willard L. Beckstrom, 36, the Sioux Falls bachelor who stole the girl's body from the Holland cemetery 50 miles away, offered no explanation to police.

"People will think the whole family is made up of monsters," said his mother, Mrs. Willard S. Beckstrom, nearly in tears. "Willard's customers always liked him. He always remembered everything he heard or read."

"Maybe," she said, "he knew too much about things."

Beckstrom's father, an X-ray technician, refused to say how much his son told him.

He said this was a matter for Willard's attorney, who indicated a move would be made to have him committed to an institution.

Minnesota authorities who had lodged a fugitive warrant against him, said they would not object to this. Beckstrom was a patient at Yankton, S.D., State Hospital for a while after suffering a breakdown when he was 18.

Police speculated that Beckstrom may have been attracted to the girl through local newspaper stories when she was a patient in a Sioux Falls hospital, where she died.

Motion Would Attack DeGaulle Algeria Aims

ALGIERS (AP) — Deputy Pierre la Gaillarde, leader of an extreme rightist group in Algeria, said today he will try to push a motion through the French National Assembly condemning President Charles de Gaulle's Algerian policy.

He said in an interview he is sure of support from at least 54 other deputies, "enough to form a nucleus of opposition."

Paris political sources, however, doubted that such a motion could get the signatures of even the 10 per cent of the deputies—53—required to bring it to debate. La Gaillarde's faction and other French rightists in Algeria have accused De Gaulle of a sellout, fearing he will negotiate peace with the Algerian rebels who have been fighting for independence for five years.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was disappointed in the answer you gave the 16-year-old pregnant girl. The boy didn't want to marry her so you advised the poor kid to "go it alone."

Why should he be let off when he's just as much to blame? Believe me, if it was our daughter, we'd see to it that the guilty party was dragged to the minister by the scuff of the neck if necessary. He wouldn't be set free to go on his merry way and probably ruin some other girl's reputation.

There are always too many fellows on the loose with no sense of responsibility. You are encouraging more.

A child is entitled to a name, regardless of how the mother feels about the father, or vice versa. If it doesn't work out, there are laws to take care of such things. You goofed, Ann.—DISAPPOINTED.

Dear Disappointed: Sorry, the advice stands. I'd never advise a girl's parents to drag an unwilling boy to the minister and poke a shotgun in his ribs. A marriage of this type is almost always failure.

Marriage should not be punishment for people who have behaved irresponsibly. Nor should it be an empty ceremony to give a child a name.

The "laws to take care of such things," I assume, are divorce statutes. The American woman is already the most divorced in the world because too many trek to the altar with one eye on a lawyer if things don't work out.

Marriage should be forever—with the intention of making a life together. No other reason is good enough.

Lying Sister-In-Law

Dear Ann: My marriage is in danger because of a lying sister-in-law.

Johnny and I were married six years ago. I thought we got along swell—there was never any trouble. My husband's unmarried sister never liked me because she's 30 pounds overweight and I have a terrific figure and can eat all the things she loves.

Johnny was away at reserve camp for two weeks this summer. His sister told him I stepped out, which is not true. I have three small children and no help. When would I have the time or energy to go chasing?

State law requires examination of a sex offender and a report before being sentenced. They were indicted by the September Grand Jury.

Hemorrhage Fatal

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Sam E. Gearhart, 72, general manager and vice president of the Fayetteville Democrat Publishing Co., died Wednesday of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was stricken after returning from a convention of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Assn., of which he was a former director.

What can I do to make him believe me? Please help.—ADELLE.

Dear Adelle: After six years and three kids you shouldn't have to take a loyalty oath or need help from me.

Your record is your best witness. If it's your word against Fats's, he should certainly accept yours, based on past performance.

Dear Ann: I just read the letter from "Sneaking Around" and I certainly hope the mother of this little girl will reconsider and let her have a live pet of some kind.

Four years ago we got our 9-year-old Maryann a Golden Retriever whose shedding hair is causing me to pull mine out. Last year we got a turtle who loves to climb out of the bowl.

Then we got a Japanese snail, three goldfish and an African frog. All these pets are in Maryann's room but my husband and I sit by the hour and watch that loony frog's antics with the fish and the snails.

Every child needs something to call his very own. I hope Mother reconsiders. I'm happy I did.—ZOO KEEPER.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hawaii Theme Of Program Held For Coterie Club

"Hawaii—Our Fiftieth State" was the program theme for the meeting of the Coterie Club Wednesday night with Mrs. Glen V. Wilson of Vine St.

Mrs. Theodore Burke, co-hostess, and the hostess, in Hawaiian costumes, presented leis to the members as they arrived.

Mrs. James Bennett Jr. conducted roll call to articles she prepared on the new state.

Mrs. Reid Calcott screened color slides of her recent trip to the island and displayed fabrics, costumes, jewelry and other items.

Mrs. Mildred Sauerbrei, president, was in charge of business. Contributions were given to the Child Counseling Center and the Community Fund.

The luncheon appointments reflected a Hawaiian theme. Yellow leis and mallee formed the decorative note on the brown cloth-covered table at which Mrs. Sauerbrei, poured. An arrangement of sea shells flanked by lighted tapers completed the setting.

"Tahiti" will be the theme for the second island-hopping program of the club when it meets Oct. 14 with Mrs. Sauerbrei of Maplewood Ave. Mrs. Richard Unkefer and Mrs. G. William Brokaw will have the program. Mrs. Edward Lane will be co-hostess.

Merrill Wright will be program chairman Thursday at 6:15 p. m. at a meeting at Larry's Restaurant.

Constable Declares 'Crowd' Ringed Youth To Stop Arrest

Municipal Judge George L. Blosser today put off until Saturday morning a decision in a complicated case in which Constable Clarence Blosser of St. Clair Township declared a hostile crowd of about a dozen attempted to bar him from following through on arrest of a youth charged with operating a motorcycle with a faulty muffler.

The constable filed charges of "wilfully resisting a police constable in the lawful execution of his duty" against Donald Marcum, 19, of Sub-Station, who also is accused of using the motorcycle with the faulty muffler.

Blosser testified he originally took Marcum into custody Thursday afternoon on the Y. & O. Rd., but acceded to the youth's request that he be allowed to notify the owner of the motorcycle. The constable said he and the youth got into the officer's car and rode to the owner's garage, leaving the motorcycle at the place of the arrest.

Blosser said "a crowd of about a dozen" surrounded him, cutting him off from his prisoner, and "threatened to punch me in the nose if I didn't leave." After some further argument, he said, he telephoned the State Highway Patrol barracks at Lisbon, which sent a cruiser to the scene.

The constable said Marcum finally submitted to arrest after being urged repeatedly by Blosser and the state patrolman.

Marcum testified there were only about four in the "crowd," not a dozen or so, as the constable said. He said Blosser was ordered off the property, but not threatened otherwise. The youth said he was in a nearby garage talking with friends while Blosser was arguing with the others.

Continuing the case, the judge indicated there is a question whether the trial should be in Municipal Court or in one of the rural county courts. A County Court at East Palestine has jurisdiction in most cases arising in St. Clair Township.

Man Fined And Jailed For Drunken Driving

Henry R. Cornman, 29, of 1232 Erie St., was fined $300 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in jail when he pleaded guilty today before Municipal Judge George L. Blosser on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Cornman's operator's permit also was suspended for six months. He was taken into custody at 1:25 a. m. today at City Hall, police said.

Meanwhile, Norma J. Marple of Wellsville R. D. 1 forfeited a $16 bond on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

She was cited by the State Highway Patrol Wednesday night as the result of a collision on the East Liverpool-Wellsville "super road."

Baker Firm's Inspection Set On Sewer Job

The administration has signed a contract with the engineering firm of Michael Baker Jr., Inc., at Rochester for continuous inspection of work in relocation of the Carpenters Run trunk line sanitary sewer. Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross said today.

Ross announced yesterday that contractors' bids for the relocation will be opened at City Hall Friday, Oct. 30. The call for bids and the contract for inspection were authorized by Council at a special meeting last Friday.

The city's contract with the Baker concern does not set a flat sum, but establishes charges on a fee basis. The charges include $600 a month for a full-time resident inspector and a charge of $140 a day for any time that a survey crew is required. The general supervision will amount to 2 per cent of the contract cost.

The first phase of the relocation will extend from the sewage treatment plant northwest toward the city limits, ending at a point in the vicinity of the old stone quarry.

The general plan shows the new line will extend from the plant crossing W. 4th St. diagonally just east of Westgate School, to a point in the center of the W. 8th St. "super-road" near Lisbon St. From W. 8th St. it will run to W. 9th St. and then directly along 9th St. to Barlow Alley. It then will follow Barlow Alley and Claiborne St., immediately parallel with Dresden Ave.

Ross said the second phase of the relocation probably will be built at the time work begins on the first phase of a four-lane freeway that will extend from the city limits in California Hollow to W. 3rd and Monroe St.

The work scheduled at present calls for a brand new line along a new right-of-way. The existing line will be abandoned. It generally follows the course of Carpenters Run.

10% 'Assessment' Seen Back Of Union Dispute

Refusal of employed members of Steelworkers Local 1212 to pay a 10 per cent assessment into the strike relief fund was reported as the cause of the union's withdrawal of maintenancemen at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

The company said Thursday it is now using foremen and other supervisory personnel to continue repairs at the strike-bound plant after union members doing the work were pulled out.

A number of Local 1212 members had been working on maintenance since the strike started in mid-July but several said they balked at paying a tenth of their earnings into the welfare fund.

The union declined to comment after the company announcement yesterday.

Premier Hints Sentence Will Be Commuted

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker indicated Thursday night that the death sentence of Steven Truscott, 14, convicted of the rape-slaying of a 12-year-old girl, will be commuted.

The youth was convicted in Goderich, Ont., Wednesday and sentenced to be hanged Dec. 8. The jury recommended mercy but the death sentence is mandatory in murder convictions. Any clemency must come from the federal Cabinet.

No one as young as Truscott has been convicted of murder in Canada since 1875. At that time, a 14-year-old Indian received the death penalty but the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

Truscott was accused of the rape - murder of Lynn Harper, daughter of an officer at the Clinton air force station near here. The boy was the son of a warrant officer at the base, and the two children were playmates. Justice R. I. Ferguson prohibited publication of the trial testimony because of Truscott's age but witnesses at a preliminary hearing told of seeing Truscott and the girl together on a bicycle June 9, the day she vanished. One witness said he saw the boy returning alone a half hour later. The girl's partly nude body was found in the woods two days later.

Pike Revenue Up

CLEVELAND (AP) — During September 1,146,300 vehicles used the Ohio Turnpike, and the toll road's income was the largest for any September since it opened four years ago Thursday. Revenue approximated $2,240,000, up 12 per cent from a year ago, James W. Shocknessy, Turnpike Commission chairman, said. For the first nine months of this year revenue amounted to $18,064,000, or about two million dollars more than in the similar period of 1958, Shocknessy said.

By JOHN CROSBY

'What Makes Sammy Run?'

John Crosby

In roughly the first five minutes of "What Makes Sammy Run?" on NBC's "Sunday Showcase" (gee, that's a pretentious title), Sammy Glick appropriates some body else's radio script, calls Myron Selznick, who was then the most important agent in Hollywood, and sells himself and the script on pure gall. This is so outrageously incredible that it's somehow believable. It also sets the proper tone for this tale of a young man in a hurry which the hero of Budd Schulberg's first novel most assuredly is.

"What Makes Sammy Run?" was introduced as a modern classic and I guess it is, all right. At least Sammy Glick has passed into the language as synonymous for a young man on the make.

Since he wrote it in 1941 — which is not so many years ago but eons in attitudes and manners, particularly in Hollywood — there have been many other novels with heels as heroes, but this one remains the modern granddaddy of them, full of vitality and large flaws and still terribly readable.

I FOUND it a compelling story, very sensibly, economically and clearly directed by Delbert Mann, who also produced it. But I would not be honest if I didn't admit that there were jarring notes — many of them.

It was presented quite properly in a period which was the late '30s with the salaries then paid newspapermen ($50 a week) and fledgling screen writers ($150) lending an antique flavor like the use of Stutz Bearcats in pictures of the '20s.

But along with the salaries, there also is an antique flavor to the whole way of life — the junior writer in Hollywood, the Head of Studio who was then just a little less than Jupiter and today scarcely exists — which has vanished probably forever.

I mean it isn't old enough to have a genuine historic flavor like the court of Louis XIV and it's just wrong enough to bother me.

ANOTHER THING that bothered me was the flavor of the dialogue, which was all wisecracks of a curiously antique flavor.

"Here's to wall-to-wall picketing" — "Let's stop talking and just be clever."

There were moments when each actor seemed to be speaking straight lines in order to set up the next line for another actor.

"What do you want me to be, half a success, half a man?" snarls Sammy to his girl of the moment.

"But if you were less a success you'd be more a man," says the girl who loathes his ethics but has sneaking admiration for the body. I'm afraid I just didn't believe this relationship — or perhaps I just didn't like it.

One of the things I missed from the book was Sammy's quick ear — the way he blundered with a headwater the first time but never the second, the antenna in the wind to see which way the wind blew.

One major weakness both in the book and in this play is that there is no other topic of conversation but Sammy. Even the minor characters, including many who loathe him, have only one subject of conversation, which is Sammy.

AND WITH ALL this carping, Sammy's rush to success, elbowing his way over both man and woman, is a gripping yarn and I plan to be right back at the set next Sunday night to see the second half of it.

Larry Blyden was splendidly elf and likable and somehow comprehensible as Sammy on the run. John Forsythe was very engaging as the sort of Boswell who disapproves of Sammy Glick but somehow acts as a coplayer.

Barbara Rush is playing a character I simply don't believe so I can't really judge her performance. But Dina Merrill, in her brief appearances, was quite chilling as an amoral rich girl who gives Mr. Glick his comeuppance.

In this faltering season, Sammy is certainly the freshest thing that has so far come along.

Burglars Solve His Investment Problem

CLEVELAND (AP) — While George Brooks was out looking for something in which to invest his $1,800, burglars entered his East Side apartment Thursday night and solved the problem for him.

Brooks, 36, told police the thieves entered his apartment by breaking a rear window and took the money, which was in a coat pocket in a closet.

He said the money was his share in the recent sale of a gasoline station.

To Build India Plant
AKRON, Ohio (AP) — India's first synthetic rubber plant, costing 30 million dollars and with an annual capacity of 30,000 tons, will be built by Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. during the next 21 months, Harvey S. Firestone, company chairman, announced Thursday. About half of the initial capital will be raised in India, the announcement said, and the project is expected to save India about 10 million dollars a year in foreign exchange.

Net Income Down
CLEVELAND (AP) — Chesapeake & Ohio Railway today reported nine-month net income of $33,296,000, or $4.08 a common share, against $33,998,000, or $4.18 a common share in the first three quarters of 1958.

Business will be conducted by Paul Jones, president.

MUSCLE MEN

Q. How is it possible for professional weight-lifters to raise tremendous loads without injuring the back?

A. General muscular development and "know-how" are obviously needed to lift heavy weights. English doctors made a study of weight-lifting and determined that the theoretical maximum lift is something like 500 pounds. This is, in practice, about tops for professionals. Much of the lifted weight is suspended by the spinal column. The rubbery pads (intervertebral discs) which fit between each bone of the spine withstand pressures up to 1000 pounds. So the professional weight-lifter comes nowhere near lifting enough to crush the spine.

Could Affect National Economy

Judge's Decision Awaited In Du Pont Co. Stock Case

CHICAGO (AP)—This is a day for clock watching in big business offices and in brokerage houses.

At 4:31 p.m. Central Daylight Time Judge Walter J. La Bay plans to make public his decision in the Du Pont case.

The case is a legal leviathan involving more than 3 billion dollars worth of stock. The result could affect the whole national economy.

The ruling will be the latest development in the government's 10-year effort to end the close association — through stock ownership — of E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co. and General Motors Corp.

Du Pont and its affiliates, as of Dec. 31, owned 63 million of GM's 282,260,938 shares. The Du Pont bloc was valued Thursday at more than 3 1/3 billion dollars.

The government has proposed that Du Pont distribute 43 million GM shares among individual Du Pont stockholders, thus, the Du Pont stockholders would be given 1.38 shares of GM stock for each share of Du Pont stock they own.

Under the government suggestion, the other 20 million GM shares held by Du Pont would be sold on the open market over a 10-year period.

Du Pont attorneys contended the government plans would throw a heavy tax load on the 194,343 Du Pont stockholders. Some of them, the lawyers said, might dump their holdings to avoid tax complications.

The Du Pont spokesmen also claimed the stock sales would have a drastic effect on the market prices of both GM and Du Pont stock.

Du Pont has proposed a different plan. It offered to give its GM stock voting rights to Du Pont shareholders but to retain title to the stock to collect the dividends.

Whatever the court decides, the loser is expected to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Parole Area Counties Cut

Columbiana and Jefferson Counties are part of the Canton Parole District, which has been reduced from 20 to 13 counties as part of the bureau's efforts to improve supervision of the state's 5,300 former penal institution inmates.

The state also added one new parole district and is expanding its staff of parole officers.

Creation of a new 18-county district with headquarters at Athens will reduce the territory of 4 of the 6 existing parole districts. Only the Dayton and Cincinnati districts are unchanged.

The changes, plus the addition of 15 new parole officers this year and 10 more next year, will cut each officer's case load from an average of 90 to between 60 and 70 by the end of the two-year period.

That estimate comes from M. C. Koblenz, Chief of the Division of Correction at Columbus, who announced the changes in the parole setup.

Expansion of the Bureau of Probation and Parole was made possible by a $400,000 increase in the bureau's appropriation for the two-year period.

Other districts include Cleveland, six counties, reduced from seven.

Columbus, 16 counties, reduced from 23.

Toledo, 16 counties, reduced from 19.

Dayton, 11 counties, unchanged.

Martin Runs Wild In Opener . . .

Francis Smouse, a former player and assistant coach at East Liverpool and now an assistant at Kent State University, could throw nothing but bouquets at Wellsville's John Henry Martin after his outstanding performance in Kent's opening victory last week.

"It was the best performance of any back in the four years I've been here, and Martin could go on to be one of the best backs that Kent has ever had," Smouse said.

"Martin gives 100 per cent all the time and it was his 67-yard touchdown run that broke the game wide open last week."

Kent State was leading Baldwin-Wallace, 14-12, at the time when John Henry broke loose on his long touchdown sprint. "That was a beautiful run. He cut four dif-

ANOTHER letter was received this week. It was signed "a long time season ticketholder." It follows:

"In your column Friday night, Sept. 25, you stated that the Nonpareil Club would probably pick up the check again this year for the meals the football boys have after games played away from home.

"If the football part of the Athletic Association is so poor, how can they afford to give away 200 free tickets at every home game? Do the loyal fans of East Liverpool realize that is 1,000 tickets a year at $1.25 a ticket which makes $1,250 they are losing right there.

IN REPLY: You have a point about the 200 free tickets. I, too, don't believe that East Liverpool has to pay people to attend the games.

The free tickets were distributed with the hope that they might create more paying fans in the future. School officials thought that a few more people might get interested in watching football if they saw one game free.

Relative to feeding the football team after out-of-town games, the ELHS Athletic Association now is considering paying half of the food bill, with the Nonpareil Club paying the other half.

Last week after the Girard game, Coach Lou Venditti paid for the meals out of his own pocket. How-

This 'n That In Sports . . .

NOW THAT the National League playoff is over, we recall what Hank Aaron had to say about the pennant race when we talked to him at the All-Star game in Pittsburgh this past summer.

At the time, Hank commented: "The team I fear most in the league is Los Angeles." He was so right. Aaron particularly was afraid of the Dodger pitching staff, calling it the "best in the league."

In early July when we saw Aaron he was leading the league with a .370 average and doubted at the time if he would hit .400 during the season.

However, he did wind up taking the National League batting championship with a .355 mark. He won it with a .328 average in 1956.

MRS. WAYNE Russell, president of the ELHS Band and Orchestra Mothers informed us that the organization pays the bus drivers for driving the band members to out-of-town games. It was understood last week that the drivers donate their time, but this is not so.

DICK MCKERNAN, who pitched for ELHS and City League teams, is teaching physical education at Lakewood Junior High and coaching the freshman football team. Dick got off to a good start as Lakewood won its opener, 26-0. He is a Baldwin-Wallace grad.

TWO DISTRICT boys will oppose each other on the gridiron this Saturday. Jim Potts will be seeing some action at quarterback for Bowling Green when the Falcons play host to Dayton where Midland's Vince Palyan will be at fullback.

The remainder of the lineup shows Dutch Haupt (180) at quarterback, Tim Richards (150) at left half and Frank Cullum (170) or Ken Metzger (155) at the other halfback. Frank Duda (180), considered the most consistent runner on the team, will be at fullback.

Wellsville Out To Snap Chester's String

Tiger Mentor To Start Three Frosh Tonight

Injuries have begun to take their toll at Wellsville and Coach Ken Woods will be forced into starting three freshmen gridders tonight against the rival Chester Panthers.

One of the season's largest crowds is expected to turn out at Chester City Park tonight. The kickoff is set for 8 (EDT).

Two regulars were injured in the Toronto game last week when the Tigers fell, 28-0, before the Red Knights.

Regular left tackle Don Green and guard Phil Vernon will be on the sidelines tonight, joining Bob Delposen, Wellsville's top ball carrier, who was injured two weeks ago.

Replacing Vernon will be freshman Mike Thompson. Alvin Jackson, a 170-pound sophomore, will be in Green's spot at tackle.

Thompson is one of three freshmen in the starting unit. Woods said that he doesn't believe a freshman should start a varsity game, but injuries have made him change his theory.

Roger Merriman and Leo Pearson are the other two first-year men. Merriman will be at right guard, with Pearson in Delposen's spot at fullback.

Pat Albanese and Bob Brown will start at ends, with Ralph Wagner at the other tackle post and Phil Baldwin in center.

Coach Dom Amedeo reported no changes in his lineup. He will use the same starting eleven that has rolled up four straight victories—the latest, an 8-0 win over United.

Amedeo will be counting on his trio of backs, Bill Mayhew, Bob Shaffer and Ken Sayres.

John Bickerstaff, the 130-pound junior, will be running the Panthers from quarterback.

On the line will be Blaine Piny and Gary Pugh at ends, John Steele and Steve Chapko at tackles, Bill Mackall and Tommy Hinds at guards, with big Larry McSwegin in center.

In other games around the district, Coach Pete Hroszko takes his injury-riddled Newell eleven to Wayne, a Jefferson County school.

The Vikings are still looking for their first victory after three setbacks.

South Side is another district school which hasn't jumped into the victory column in three attempts. The Rams visit Ellsworth tonight.

The mighty Salem Quakers will test their high-powered offense against Canton Timken at Salem.

In two Tri-County League games, East Palestine will go to Leetonia and Columbiana will visit Miners.

The New Cumberland Blue Raiders will be busy tonight entertaining Cameron.

Four games are scheduled Saturday, with Beaver Local visiting Salineville in the featured contest. United will travel to Greenford, Lisbon will be at Poland and North Lima at Fairfield-Waterford.

READY FOR THE IRISH. East Liverpool's Bernie Allen (No. 15) is joined by four other former Ohio Valley football stars at Purdue awaiting his home opener Saturday with Notre Dame. Pictured with Allen are Dick Jacobs of Bellaire (No. 87), Joe Prest of Steubenville Central, (No. 17) Tom Yakubowski, Adena (38) and Paul Rose, Bellaire (No. 93). Allen is scheduled to see a lot of action at quarterback tomorrow for the Boilermakers.

4,000 Expected At Midland Tonight

A capacity crowd of more than 4,000 fans is expected to fill Midland High School stadium tonight to see the "game of the year" as far as WPIAL Class "A" ranks are concerned.

The game is almost a certain sellout, since everything is at stake for both teams. Braddock can tie a national scholastic winning streak with a victory over the Leopards.

And at the same time, the Class "A" WPIAL title hinges on tonight's contest. The kickoff is set for 8 (EDT).

Braddock has won 47 straight games and the only tie on this outstanding record came at the hands of Midland—a 7-7 deadlock in the 1954 WPIAL championship game.

The last time Braddock lost was in 1953—to North Braddock Scott. A win tonight by Braddock would tie a record of 49 undefeated games set by Abilene (Tex.) a few years ago.

The game may also mark Coach John Petchel's last chance to see one of his Midland's teams defeat Braddock.

Petchel hinted before this season got under way that this would be his last year in the coaching ranks.

The Leopards came close in 1958 when they dropped a 9-7 decision to Braddock.

Midland has won three straight games, but all by one touchdown margins. The victories have been over Beaver Falls, Pittsburgh Taylor and Beaver. Meanwhile, Braddock knocked off Hopewell, 27-13, and Homestead, 47-0.

Midland's offense will be centered around the passing and of quarterback Ken Russell, who has been the big gun in the three victories.

Along with Russell in the backfield will be Martin Schulte and Rudy Krivosia at halfbacks and big Movie Smith (210) at fullback. Up on the forward wall, Petchel plans to start, Gene Lake and Bernie Vukelich at ends, Smith will double at one defensive tackle with Gene Epley at the other tackle spot.

Gene Gerra and Frank Deramo are listed at the guard slots with Barney Silverman at center.

Xavier U. May Lose Fullback For Season

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jocko Serieka, key man in Xavier University's football backfield, apparently won't play when the Musketeers meet Miami at Oxford Saturday. He may be out for the season.

Physicians said Thursday that Serieka, senior fullback from Winchester, Mass., suffered head concussions in each of Xavier's first three games. They ruled him out of Saturday's game.

Races Stepped Up This Fall At Waterford

Waterford Park will speed up the races considerably during the coming fall meeting, Oct. 12 through Nov. 28.

A new walk way leading from the stabling grounds to the paddock has been built behind the parking lot, adjacent to the Ohio River, and as horses emerge for one race, those entered in the following contest will start towards the paddock.

A saving of at least 5 minutes per race will be effected, permitting the events to be presented at 23 minute intervals.

"That is the time limit we have set," President James F. Edwards stated, in discussing the innovation, "and it means that with a 1:30 post time, racing patrons should be on their way home by approximately 4:45 o'clock."

In the past horses have gathered at the head of the stretch, awaiting the end of a race before starting down the home stretch for the paddock. Under our new plan, as soon as a race is over these horses will already have reached the paddock, ready for saddling and mounting.

East-Salem Contest Reset For Saturday

The East Junior High - Salem game set for Thursday at Patterson Field was postponed because of wet grounds. Merrill Hall, athletic director announced. The game has been reset for Saturday at 2 p. m. while Westgate will meet East Palestine Saturday morning at 10. Both games are scheduled for Patterson Field.

Los Angeles Out To Square Series After 11-0 Clobbering

Big Klu Is Hero Of Opening Game

CHICAGO (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers, the club with a comeback habit, went out to square the World Series in today's second game against the Chicago White Sox.

Manager Walt Alton picked Johnny Podres, his erratic left-handed ace, to face right-hander Bob Shaw, the White Sox' pitching surprise. Podres, the 2-0 hero of the Dodgers' only world championship, in 1955, had a 14-9 regular season record. Shaw was 18-6.

Game time is 2 p. m. Eastern Daylight Time. The weather forecast calls for another cool afternoon.

Both Alton and White Sox Manager Al Lopez had their pitchers picked for this one before the go-go Sox put away an 11-0 victory in the opener of this 56th World Series Thursday.

The Sox, who waited 40 years for an American League pennant and a Series chance, are favored at 6-5 again today and now are pegged at 9-5 to take it all.

The White Sox had help they didn't need from the Dodgers while putting away the most one-sided shutout since the 1934 Series when Dizzy Dean and the St. Louis Cardinals beat Detroit 11-0. The Sox won behind Old Man Early Wynn and reliever Gerry Staley, with two homers and five runs batted in from Ted Kluszewski—and some bungling by the Dodgers.

Seven of the White Sox runs, four unearned, came in the third inning against loser Roger Craig, the Dodger ace, and reliever Chuck Churn. A chain of three errors, a record two by center fielder Duke Snider, anchored it for the Sox while Wynn dimmed Dodger hopes with a six-hit job before giving way in the eighth with a stiff elbow.

Alton decided against any lineup changes for today's game. "These are the guys who did it for us all season," he said, "so why change?"

Lopez made a couple of normal platooning switches in the Sox line-up. Rookie Jim McAnany replaces Jim Rivera in right field and Bubba Phillips goes to third instead of Billy Goodman. McAnany and Phillips bat right-handed. Goodman and Rivera bat left.

"But, I guess," said Lopez with a grin, "I'll keep Kluszewski at first."

Alton found something good in Thursday's failure, pointing out that relievers Johnny Klippstein and Sandy Koufax looked better than they have in a long time.

They gave up just one hit between them in four innings. Alton also got through the opener without using Larry Sherry, his long-haul reliever and a possible starter.

Sherry (6-2) could be a quick replacement for Podres, who has managed only one complete game in the last two months.

Wynn, waving off his arm trouble as nothing serious, said he'll be able to come back in Monday's fourth game on schedule. At 39, he blamed the stiffness on age, the chilling wind and a recent case of gout.

It was the first Series victory for both Wynn and Lopez, losers with Cleveland when the New York Giants swept the 1954 Series in four straight.

Chuck Churn came in to relieve Roger Craig on the mound for the Dodgers. At this point Sherman Lollar sent a high fly to center and the usually dependable Duke Snider collided with Wally Moon and dropped it for a two-base error. Bill Goodman singled into right scoring Lollar.

Al Smith doubled to left center and was saved from embarrassment when he went charging in to third where Goodman was standing only to have Snider make his second error of the inning by throwing wild to second. Goodman scored and Smith was safe at third.

Jim Rivera bounced to Neal who threw wild to the plate for an error as Smith scored and Rivera took second. Early Wynn, the durable Sox pitcher, promptly doubled to left center scoring Rivera to make it 9-0. Churn got Aparicio and Fox to ground out, ending the inning.

What followed was anticlimax. In the fourth, Landis hit his third consecutive single and Kluszewski hit his second consecutive home run to make the score 11-0 and there it stayed. Kluszewski's 5 runs batted in tied a series record.

Tax Collections Up

CLEVELAND (AP)—Total collections on this year's tangible and intangible taxes in Cuyahoga County hit a new high of $54,492,010, County Treasurer Frank M. Brennan announced Thursday.

The tax take last year was $52,216,996.

How Do You Think Braves Feel?

'11-0 Defeat--Just Grin And Bear It,' Snider Says

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers don't want to be accused of leaving their game in the National League playoffs with the Milwaukee Braves.

After that 11-0 pasting by the Chicago White Sox in the World Series opener Thursday, there was curious reaction in the two teams' dressing rooms.

The Sox, who have waited 40 years for such a moment, generally were a bunch of deadpans. The Dodgers laughed off the whole thing.

"If you think we feel bad now how do you think the Braves feel?" shouted the veteran Dodger utility man, Don Zimmer.

"Yeah, how do you think the Braves feel?" echoed Duke Snider.

The general conclusion was that it seemed to be a heck of a time to bring up the Braves, beaten two straight in the pennant playoffs.

Snider, first baseman Gil Hodges and other old hands of previous Dodger Series grinned as if they had been caught stealing watermelons.

"If we lost 2-1 we would eat our hearts out," said Snider. "But 11-0, hell we just got beat and the best thing to do is grin and bear it."

Nellie Fox, peppery Sox second baseman, was surprised at himself for feeling the Series opener was just another game.

"I've never even seen a World Series game except on TV," he said. "I was expecting to get a little tense, but nothing ever happened. I felt more tension in the pennant race. Of course, playing in your home park might have something to do with it."

Big Ted Kluszewski summed up his reaction in his first World Series game this way:

"Those two homers were the greatest thrill I ever had. But that is as far as my feelings went. I didn't feel like jumping up and down, if you know what I mean. And doggone it, it bothers me. I was expecting that different feeling but nothing happened."

Early Wynn, 39-year-old winning pitcher, just shook his head and said:

"There was no tension. All the guys had made up their minds to go out and give it all they had just like we've done all year. There was a job to do, and we did it. That's all."

LOS ANGELES (AP)—One record gone and more to follow. So it was today as the Dodgers sold out huge Memorial Coliseum for the three World Series games scheduled here.

Crowds of 92,000-plus are insured for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday; if the Tuesday game is necessary, and already broken is the paid attendance mark for one Series game.

Browns Work

On Defense

CLEVELAND (AP)—In the Chicago Cardinals, the Cleveland Browns meet an opponent that rolled up 49 points and gained a net of 569 yards against Washington in its National Football League opener.

No wonder Thursday's Browns' practice bore down heavily on defense.

The Browns, who will be left with a hard row to hoe if they drop Sunday's game in Chicago, are looking for some offensive surprises from the Cards' coach, Pop Ivy. He has done it before.

During the afternoon there are such attractions as Kent State at Ohio University in the rugged Mid-American Conference; non-loop standouts which send Dayton against Bowling Green, and Xavier against Miami; and in the evening are three red-hot Ohio Conference clashes—Denison at Muskingum, Ohio Wesleyan vs Akron at Barberton, and Heidelberg vs Wittenberg's defending champions at Springfield.

The latter figures to be a classic. Bill Edwards, Wittenberg mentor, and Paul Hoerneman of the Student Princes have met four times and each has won two. Each is nearing the 100-victory mark and needs this one to get a step nearer the magic coaching figure.

In 14 years at Western Reserve, Vanderbilt and Wittenberg, Edwards has compiled a 95-33-7 record. Hoerneman, in 13 seasons at Heidelberg, has a 97-16-4 mark. The loser drops out of the current pennant scrap.

Also on the weekend agenda, following tonight's Youngstown at Northern Michigan fray, are these Saturday contests:

Ohio Conference: Capital at Hiram, Otterbein at Kenyon, Wooster at Mount Union.

Missouri Valley: Cincinnati at Houston (night).

Presidents' Conference: Bethany at John Carroll, Case Tech at Wayne Tech, Thiel at Western Reserve.

Mid-Ohio League: Ohio Northern at Findlay (night), Wilmington at Defiance, Ashland at Bluffton.

Non-conference: Swarthmore at

Veeck Made Bid For Klu In April

CHICAGO (AP)—In the clubhouse under Comiskey Park, Ted Kluszewski was telling reporters how surprised he had been when he learned last August he had been sold by Pittsburgh to the White Sox.

Some 50 yards away, in the Bards' Room, where the White Sox entertain the press, Bill Veeck, the club president, was telling how he had been trying to pry big Klu away from the Pirates since April.

"I was in the radio business then, broadcasting the game of the week," Veeck said. "I was doing a Pittsburgh game and the first time I saw this muscleman, I said to myself, 'This guy's for me.'"

"We had so many little guys on the team, I wanted one big guy. I didn't care how good he was. I just wanted someone to scare the other team."

Kluszewski hadn't done much scaring of anybody—not since he suffered a slipped disc in the spring of 1956 when he was with the Cincinnati Reds, who unloaded him on the Pirates two years later.

Klu did some unloading of his own Thursday. He warmed up against Los Angeles, driving in a run with a single in the first inning. In the third he drove a home run with a man on base and followed with another two-run homer in the next inning for a total of five runs batted in Chicago's 11-0 triumph.

The 35-year-old first baseman has proved his weight in gold to the White Sox—and that's a lot of gold—245 pounds of it.

Kluszewski wasn't very happy at Pittsburgh. Not that he was ill treated; it was just that he didn't get to play much. The former football star at Indiana knew his number was up at Pittsburgh when the team opened the 1959 season with two other first basemen—Dick Stuart and Rocky Nelson. It was then that he began hoping for a trade.

"I was hoping to be traded to the American League," he confessed. "I thought I'd have a better opportunity to play in the other league. I don't think I started more than a dozen games in Pittsburgh. Besides, the Pittsburgh park is bad for any hitter."

Southern Cal Rates Slim Favorite Over Ohio State

By BOB MYERS

Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ohio State, perennial power in the Big Ten, and Southern California, rated the best in the west, meet in an intersectional football game tonight in Memorial Coliseum.

Kickoff time is 8 p.m. PST (11 p.m. EST).

This will be the 10th meeting between the schools and the Buckeyes lead with five wins, three losses and one tie.

Southern California, off its 27-6 victory over Oregon State and 23-0 win over Pitt, is a slim favorite to win. The Buckeyes got by Duke in a close one last week, 14-13.

Mainspring of the Ohio State offense is bulling fullback Bob White, a 214-pounder, who operates under the guidance of quarterback Jerry Fields and behind a line that is even heavier than the bulky Trojan forward wall.

The Buckeye line averages 219, with tackle Jim Tyrer the largest at 248 pounds.

The Trojans average 214. Tackle Dan Ficca at 230 is the heaviest.

The big problem for Troy is at quarterback since first-stringer Willie Wood is lost for the season because of a shoulder injury. Al Prukop takes over as the starter.

Prukop boasts more experience than third stringer Ben Charles, but the latter played and passed in great style against Pitt last week.

Ohio State, from scout reports, still goes for the steady if not spectacular gains. The ends, Tom Perdue and Jim Houston, aren't too busy fielding passes. But passes did help sink Duke, so the threat is there.

Southern Cal has two good receivers in two big ends, George

Van Vliet, 208 pounds and Marlin Mulberry St. East End

McKeever, 218.

Chicago Received Help From 'Rattled' Dodgers

CHICAGO (AP)—Can an 11-0 World Series game have a turning point?

Could be. What if Charlie Neal's long drive down the left field line in the third inning of Thursday's game between the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Chicago White Sox had gone fair by a few feet instead of foul by a few feet?

That would have made the score 2-1 in favor of the Sox instead of 2-0. Possibly it would have braced up the Dodgers. But it went foul and the next thing the roof fell in on the hapless National League champions. The punchless Sox scored seven runs in the bottom of the third and went out in front 9-0 with the game only one-third over.

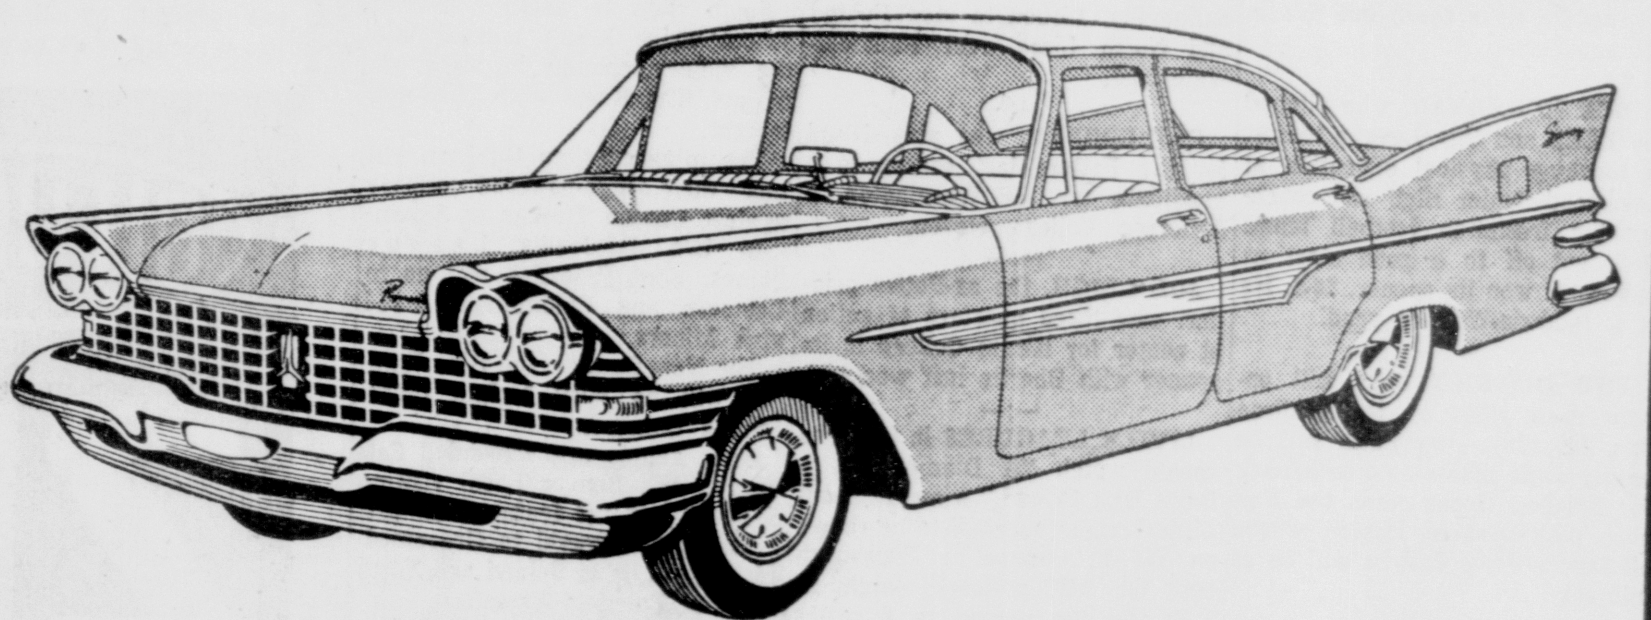

But looking at it realistically nothing could have stopped the Sox. In the first inning two hit-and-run plays and two runs showed why this was a "go-go" team.

After Luis Aparicio popped out, Nelson Fox drew a walk and was running when Jim Landis lashed a single to right. Fox reached third and scored on the first of Ted Kluszewski's three hits, a single to right that also sent Landis to third. Landis scored on Sherman Lollar's long fly to right.

Then came the third, dubbed by Manager Walt Alton of the Dodgers as being as bad an inning as his team had suffered all season.

Again it started with Aparicio flying out. Fox doubled and Landis singled, scoring him. Kluszewski then hit the first of his two home runs of the day, into the right field stands, scoring Landis.

DiSalle Claims 200 Could Get Hospital Release

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some 200 patients at the Columbus State Hospital could be released almost immediately if social workers were available, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said Thursday.

DiSalle's comment came as he made a surprise inspection tour of the institution. Dr. Lowell Dillon, superintendent, said the social workers were needed to find outside homes and supervise the patients.

The governor became ill as he toured one cottage, apparently the result of odors from a kitchen and sleeping areas.

Only a few minutes before, DiSalle inspected the institution's central dining room and commented: "It makes me sick."

The building in which he got nauseated houses 112 patients. Paint was peeling from the ceiling, DiSalle remarked that this might be one cause of dysentery now affecting the 2,600-patient institution.

Lack of sanitary facilities, shortage of screens, dirty beds and lack of personnel were criticized by the governor.

Dr. Dillon said money for a new central building has been available for some time but the ground has not been broken.

Bids Due Monday In City Bond Sale

City Auditor H. J. Gallimore will open bids Monday noon for sale of an $11,000 municipal bond issue in anticipation of the collection of special assessments from property-owners for 5 small street and sewer improvement projects.

Issued in denominations of $1,000, the bonds will be retired from Dec. 1, 1961, through Dec. 1, 1964.

The projects all have been completed. The surfacing work was done on Moore St. from Dresden Ave. to Barlow Alley and Walters St. from Pennsylvania Ave. to Globe St.

The sewer work was on a short stretch of Lisbon St. near Sanford Ave., on both sides of Harvey Ave. near Bushwick St. and on the north side of Hazel Alley, also near Bushwick St.

Council enacted legislation in August clearing the way for the bond sale. The apparent best bid probably will be presented to Council Monday night for its approval.

Other business of the association will also be transacted, Wilhelm said.

Actual flight training may be held in California or New Mexico. In preparation for SAC duty, Lt. Bigelow has attended survival school in Nevada.

He and his wife, the former Jane Allison, visited various scenic sites while in Arizona. His wife has recently been visiting her mother, Mrs. Howard Hissom, of Spring Grove Ave.

IBOP Opposes Labor Body's Import Stand

Because it did not offer enough protection to pottery workers from cheap foreign imports, the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters opposed a resolution enacted at the recent AFL-CIO convention in San Francisco pledging support of the reciprocal trade agreements plan.

Speaking for the IBOP, E. L. Wheatley, president, told the convention the pottery union lost 7,500 members in the last 10 years when plants were closed because of foreign competition.

"We realize that if we intend to trade with the free world we must give the wherewithal to trade back with us. However, we do not feel we can stand by and see our industry ruined by cheap foreign imports from Japan and many other countries where workers in industries receive low wages and work under sweatshop conditions," Wheatley said, according to the account in the Potters Herald.

The union chief said the pottery union lost over one-fifth of its membership because foreign competition was blamed by management when plants were shut down.

"Because a lot of the ceramic plants are 'back in the hinterlands', there are no other industries in the area to take up the slack," Wheatley said, "and the employees who have spent their lives realize the futility of seeking other jobs when they are 50 to 60 in large industrial cities."

Wheatley told the convention many international unions entered resolutions at the convention complaining of foreign imports.

"Any remarks that I make have nothing to do with preventing the freedom program that the AFL-CIO has and nothing to do with preventing any foreign aid. We are even in favor of more foreign aid. But we are not in favor of giving a trade to the foreign set-up."

Wheatley, C. F. Jordan, secretary-treasurer, and J. A. Birch Jr. and W. R. Boneham were the IBOP delegates at the convention.

School Bus Session Will Be Held Thursday

Columbiana County's annual school bus conference will be held Thursday at 6:45 p. m. (DST) at Westgate School with executive heads and drivers of all county schools invited.

They will be guests of the Columbiana County Motor Club, with the Ohio State Automobile Association furnishing the speaker. This is being arranged by Atty. Lynn Riddle, president of the state association.

Reservations must be in at the county superintendent's office at Lisbon by Monday, Supt. James L. McBride said.

Personal Tax Bills To Be Issued Oct. 10

LISBON — County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge said today that personal tax statements for the concluding payment of 1959 will be mailed around Oct. 10 and will carry a closing date of Oct. 30.

Classified personal tax is based on stocks, bonds and investments while general personal tax is based on store and farm equipment and inventories.

Mayors Urge Employment Of Physically Handicapped

The annual campaign to promote hiring of the physically handicapped has been launched by Mayor Fred Lawrence of East Liverpool and Mayor William Shoub of Wellsville in proclaiming next week as "National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week."

Both officials, as well as Gov. Michael DiSalle and President Dwight Eisenhower, cited past achievements in improving employment opportunities for handicapped workers and urged continued co-operation with the effort.

In the past, handicapped workers have proven their ability as efficient, productive and loyal employees the mayors declared in asking employers to give full consideration to such persons.

Robert M. Baur of St. Clair Ave. is chairman of the committee starting his 11th year in directing the campaign here.

Baur also heads the special committee on membership and employment contact.

Other committee heads are Supt. S. E. Daw of Wellsville schools, awards; Atty. William Bush of Wellsville, essay contests; Dr. E. G. Kuhlman, city health commissioner, medical advisory; Arthur Thomas, Review managing editor, publicity; and Rev. C. Howard Canon, president of the Ministerial Association, religious advisory.

Others on the committee are Supt. R. W. Betts of the city schools; E. L. Wheatley, president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Pottery; W. A. Betz, secretary of the U. S. Pottery Association; Mayor Shoub; Mayor Lawrence; Arthur Simmers, manager of WOHI.

Frank Duffy, president of the Trades and Labor Council; E. R. Chandler, secretary - manager of the Chamber of Commerce; Joseph Ross, city safety - service director; Samuel W. Brown, postmaster; Joseph Reed, county service officer; Earl Mosher of the Homer Laughlin China Co., the Rev. E. E. Bacon, president of the Wellsville Ministerial Association; H. L. Dinsmore, manager of the Ohio State Employment Service; and Don Eckert, retail merchant.

Baur said Boy Scouts of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church are to distribute posters to business places Saturday morning.

Studies of the achievements of some of the greatest men in history have indicated that the "masterpiece age" - or the age at which men do their best work - has averaged about 47 years.

Chrysler Has Most Assembly Plants Going Despite Walkout

DETROIT (AP) - Chrysler Corp. kept most of its assembly plants going today despite a four-day strike at a key stamping plant in Tinsburg, Ohio.

The company scheduled a meeting at the Tinsburg plant at 2 p.m. with United Auto Workers officials in an effort to end the strike.

Meanwhile, the company said it has found enough parts in transit between plants to reduce the number of layoffs.

At the start of the strike at Tinsburg, the company estimated it would have to lay off 45,000 of its 71,000 production workers in seven states by tonight.

The company said Thursday night, however, that full effect of the strike, if it continues, will not be felt until the middle of next week.

The company Thursday laid off 4,000 workers at the Dodge assembly plant in suburban Hamtramck and another 4,000 at the Plymouth assembly plant in Detroit. This brought the number of Detroit area workers idled to 14,000. Another 3,500 workers have been idled at plants in Indiana.

The Detroit area layoffs, however, did not affect production of Chrysler's new compact car, the Valiant, in the Hamtramck plant. If the strike continues, the layoffs also will affect plants in Ohio, Missouri, California, Delaware and New York.

The Tinsburg plant was struck Tuesday by 3,500 members of UAW Local 122 in a dispute over working conditions.

Woman May Gain Full Vision Because Of Thoughtful Youth

SEATTLE (AP) - Mrs. Duane Vincent, 45, is a Seattle housewife who has yet to see clearly the faces of her husband or of her two young sons.

Thursday night, because a young boy thought, of others, Mrs. Vincent underwent a delicate cornea transplant that may sweep away the clouds that have obscured her vision since she was a tiny girl.

Mrs. Vincent was stricken with influenza at three. Since then she has been barely able to distinguish light from shadows without the aid of powerful eyeglasses, which gave her 28 per cent vision.

The corneas were from the eyes of Robert Lee Jenness, 12, who was killed Wednesday night when the motor scooter he was riding was struck by a car.

Only three months ago, Bob, his father, mother and sister, will their eyes to the Providence Hospital eye bank.

The bandages are to be removed from Mrs. Vincent's eyes this weekend, probably Saturday. Doctors say they won't know for several months whether the operation has been successful.

Mrs. Vincent's thoughts before the operation were of Robert's parents.

"I have two boys, too," she said. "One is almost the same age as their boy. Our son, Guy, is 10."

"I know what they must be going through."
